Rider Thought It Was 'In Act'

. . . 'CAME DOWN SLOW'

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

"It was falling, and I thought it was part of the act so I held up my legs for when we would touch the ground and closed my eyes."

That's how Larry Hoer, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hoer of Crescent, Iowa, described the descent of the State Fair midway Sky Ride. Every member of his family was injured in the tragedy.

"It came down real slow," Larry said.

"Then mom jerked me so I wouldn't fall out, and the bar on the cars hit our legs." Larry suffered a severe leg bruise.

Larry was treated and released from a hospital.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hoer were in good condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital Sunday night.

Grabbed Son, Husband

Mrs. Hoer said she "realized we were going when I saw the tower coming down. I grabbed at Larry and my husband to keep them from falling out.

"I didn't notice much else until we were on the ground, but the cars were still moving, raking people down on the ground."

The Hoers had only been at the fair 15 minutes, taking their first ride. Larry had seen a picture of the Sky Ride in a newspaper, and "my mom and dad promised me I could ride it."

Mrs. Martha Kershner of Hastings, who was standing at the end of the ride watching her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Perrie, also of Hasting, said the cable seemed to snap down and then bounce back up. Mr. Perrie died later at a hospital.

The car in which her folks were riding bounced and "threw them out. After it was over the car was still in the air upside down," Mrs. Kershner said. Her family had come to Lincoln just for the Fair.

Nancy, the 13-year-old daughter of the Perries, was standing near the ticket booth to the Sky Ride when "it looked like the braces had fallen down. I knew my folks had fallen out," she said, "and I ran down to the other end where they were."

"The people around were very helpful. Some of the women with coats on took them off and covered the people lying on the ground."

Nancy recalled that right after it happened, the braces were back up. "It looked normal, except that some of the cars were upside down. But some people were still in some of the cars," she added.

Several onlookers and riders described a boy "hanging upside down by his foot from one of the cars." Nancy Perrie said that he fell into a canvas held for him and "broke his fall a little bit even though the canvas broke."

Albert Schweitzer Buried Near 'Home'

Dr. Albert Schweitzer was dead after devoting a half century of his life to primitive equatorial Africa. He died Saturday night in his simple wooden hut in the hospital compound on the muddy banks of the Ogooue.

He suffered a cerebral stroke a week ago and death was inevitable in his condition at the age of 90. Any other man would have succumbed sooner, doctors said.

Simple Service

Dr. Walter Munz, 32-year-old Swiss physician who takes over the hospital, read a simple funeral service before a group of tearful Africans and Europeans. The U.S. ambassador to Gabon, David Baine, represented President Johnson at the ceremony.

A choir of African women sang haltingly in the Galoa dialect, "Loanni Inina Kende Kende" (May You Rest In Peace). Tears streamed down black and white faces, and many persons sobbed loudly.

The coffin was carried outside Schweitzer's hut and African girls piled tropical flowers high on top of it. A squad of Gabonese gendarmes assembled around the bier as from the river below came the sound of motorboats bringing late arrivals.

According to Wishes

Dr. Munz conducted the service in accordance with the old doctor's wishes.

"God has called him back," the young physician said. "The great doctor was like a father. We want to continue his work here in his spirit."

A moan answered him from the crowd as white staff members began to sing the German psalm "Ache Nicht Ache Bleib Mit Deiner Gnade" (Rest With Your Grace).

A choir of leprous children sang a last farewell as the coffin was lowered and red dirt began to fall on the coffin and tears fell freely.

Final Coma

Schweitzer lapsed into final coma Saturday, a week after collapsing from what was first described as general fatigue. But the post-mortem medical bulletin attributed death to a cerebral vascular inefficiency—a stroke — "which manifested itself quite abruptly Saturday, Aug. 28."

Up to then, Schweitzer had received scores of visitors, shaking hands and conversing with each as was his custom.

Word of his death passed through the hospital compound as a misty dawn rose over the rain drenched forest. Bare breasted African women began an eerie, high-pitched funeral wail, then fell into sorrowful silence. Tribesmen in crude canoes set off into the swirling, rain-swollen river to relay the news: "The great white doctor is gone."

Ride Was 'Checked, Rechecked'

"There wasn't anything that could have gone wrong," carnival owner William T. Collins said following Sunday's State Fair tragedy.

In tears, the veteran carnival man repeated: "I can't understand it. I can't understand it."

"I checked that and rechecked it. I built that ride with my own hands. I had engineers check every detail of it."

Plenty of Insurance

"We have plenty of (insurance) coverage, you can believe that," he said.

"This will be a field day for all the small town attorneys," he added.

Fair Manager Henry Brandt said the State Fair Board requires all rides on the Fairgrounds to have "plenty of insurance." He did not elaborate.

Collins described the Sky Ride as running the length of the midway in both directions for a total of 1,100 feet. It is very much like a ski lift and was built in many respects like the ski lifts in Europe, Collins said. Gondolas hang from cables and the cables in turn are supported by four large steel tiers or towers.

Collins said the accident occurred when one of the towers went on its side dragging another tower over with it. "The tower did not break," Collins emphasized. "There was no fault in the equipment. But I don't know to save my soul what caused that tower to go over."

Another Sky Ride, identical to the one used in Lincoln, is operating at one of the "largest fairs in the East," Collins said.

The 163-man wage policy committee of the AFL-CIO union shouted approval of the agreement including an estimated nearly 50 cents an hour in wage and fringe benefit increases, after a meeting of more than two hours.

The action delivered to President Johnson the final wrapup of the agreement he wanted before Labor Day.

The action canceled the strike deadline set for 12:01 a.m. Thursday when some 450,000 steelworkers had been scheduled to shutdown an estimated 80% of the nation's steel production.

Hospitals Treat 46 For Injuries

. . . CAUSE UNDETERMINED

By JOHN De CAMP
Star Staff Writer

The toll:

At least two dead, 46 treated at hospitals. Five others received lesser injuries not requiring hospital treatment.

Dead were John H. Stevens, 51, of Falls City, and James Perrie, III, 44, of Hastings. Two others were in critical condition in hospitals Sunday night.

A 1,100-foot long Sky Ride, a slow-moving conveyance patterned after ski lifts, collapsed shortly before noon, creating the biggest disaster in the fair's 96-year history. Officials could not agree on the cause of the tragedy.

Tens of thousands of fairgoers massed into the heart of the midway following the accident. They saw bodies strewn in all directions in the twisted wreckage of what had been the queen of the carnival rides.

While rescue workers and hastily gathered guards fought to keep the crowd back and to keep roads open for ambulances, parents sought children and children found parents in tearful reunions. A number of Sky Ride passengers were trapped in the gondolas of the ride more than 30 feet above the ground about three-quarters of an hour before they were rescued by a Fire Department rig.

Cause of the disaster was not immediately established. Gov. Frank Morrison, who sped to the scene immediately following the accident to make his own investigation, said: "It (the sky ride) wasn't adequately installed."

"This means that more inspection must be required," the governor said. "It means the fair board will need to require more inspection. We have been very fortunate up till now, but can't get by on this."

William T. Collins, owner of the carnival, said tearfully: "There was no faulty construction. Whoever said that didn't know what he was talking about. The tower supporting it just went over. Where's the fault? I can't explain it. I inspected that myself. There is no evidence to show that there was any faulty installation."

Probe Begun

Early Sunday afternoon the State Fair Board issued a statement saying the cause of the accident was still undetermined. "A thorough investigation by safety engineers is under way to determine the cause of the accident. In addition, a re-inspection is being made of all equipment to make doubly certain it is operating in a safe manner," the statement said.

Passengers on the Sky Ride and persons who witnessed the collapse of the monstrous ride told almost identical stories.

They recalled hearing a noise—not a particularly loud noise but just something that did not seem quite normal. When they looked, they saw gondolas on the cable jumping and bouncing. People in the gondolas were flying around inside them, hitting their heads on the top and being banged against the sides of the cars.

A great number of the passengers on the ride and the witnesses on the ground believed the bouncing was part of the ride.

Rescuers Praised

Collins and Fair Manager Henry Brandt both gave nothing but praise to the rescue units. "Without their quick response," Brandt said, "things could have been immeasurably worse." Brandt's own daughter Connie, 20, was a passenger on the Sky Ride and was treated at a Lincoln hospital following the accident.

The entire picture following the tragedy was one of shocked disbelief. An aura of unrealistic quiet settled over the Fairgrounds. Even the carnival barkers were halfhearted in their appeals to muster customers. Then it began raining.

Brandt estimated total attendance for the tragic day was as "big as or bigger than any previous crowd and would probably top last year's 127,000."

OTHER RIDES FOUND SAFE

The rides operating on the Nebraska State Fair midway were given a clean bill of health and termed safe and operable Sunday evening by the Lincoln architectural firm of Clark & Enersen, Olsson, Burroughs and Thomsen. The midway continued to operate.

The firm had been engaged at 2 p.m. Sunday by the State Fair Board to inspect the State Fair midway rides.

Max Burroughs and Alfons Hamersky, who made the inspection for the architectural firm, were also inspecting the Sky Ride involved in the fair disaster.

Probe Continues

Monte Kiffin of Lexington, vice president of the State Fair Board, said the inspection "had not come up with anything regarding the accident as yet, but the investigation is not completed."

Kiffin said that in addition to insurance held by owners of the ride the State Fair also maintains considerable liability coverage on such accidents.

The State Fair midway was doing business as usual Sunday night.

"The place is jumping" said a newsman who visited the scene of the mishap

Business Off A Little

Ticket takes at midway attractions said business was off a little bit but they attributed this to cool weather.

The towers whose collapse caused gondolas to drop or stall had been cleared away But some gondolas continued to dangle from slack cables.

Routes For Emergency Vehicles Opened Quickly

It was strictly spur-of-the moment organization that opened up traffic lanes Sunday to get ambulances to and from the scene of the Sky Ride collapse on the State Fairgrounds, head gatekeeper Fay Moore said.

There was no emergency plan as such, Moore said. "We just organized right now."

As head gatekeeper, Moore is in charge of the five State Fair gates and the ticket sellers, public safety men and Pinkerton employes who run them and direct traffic in and out of the fairgrounds.

Moore said Helen Wadhams, Fair Manager Henry Brandt's secretary, telephoned him at the 17th Street gate and told him there was an emergency and that ambulances would be streaming in and out.

At that time, Moore said, traffic was backed up solid on 17th from the gate to Holdrege, and more was coming in from the west via Charleston.

Moore's men immediately stopped all incoming and outgoing traffic, he said.

One of Moore's men said he counted 10 different ambulances, in addition to Civil Defense and Lincoln Fire Department rescue vehicles, that went through the 17th Street gate. Some ambulances made more than one trip.

Ambulances rushed to the fairgrounds up 17th Street and headed for hospitals via 16th Street.

A Burlington freight train was due to cross 17th shortly after the Sky Ride collapsed. The railroad stations a man at the crossing during the fair, and he got the freight train stopped, Moore said.

As a result of his men's efforts, Moore said, "nobody moved" but the emergency vehicles. "Nobody got mad. They just sat still."

The Farm Round Up

By Glenn Kreuscher, Farm Editor

If the total was accumulated on hours of work, planning, and investment that goes into a state fair it would surely rival the most highly priced production of the entertainment world.

A state fair is educational and entertaining. Many of the things connected with a fair could not be found in another production.

For instance, it would be hard to match the desiring expressions of farmers inspecting the expansive displays of new farm equipment.

If you want to know what happens to a good share of the new agricultural wealth that is produced in the state each year you can guess as you watch farmers work their way through the 15 acres of equipment on display at the fair.

Big Part

The expectant look of a lady heading for fine arts, needlework or baking displays to see what the judges did with her entry develops into a wonderful experience when she gets her first glimpse of the blue ribbon attached to her entry.

Then you have the audience at the livestock show. Many of those viewing the exhibit as visitors own breeding stock bred similar to those in the show.

When an animal gets that coveted purple you can just feel the owner and his family trying to convey a modest expression as the feeling of joy is about to erupt all over the place.

Those on the sideline really let go with enthusiasm if the winner happens to be closely related to a sire at home.

Happiest

It is quite a sight to see the hog men over at the swine barn parading their entries. You really don't know how quick you can move gracefully until you have shown hogs. Some of the happiest of expressions here come from the hog man who has just sold a boar for a good price to a fair visitor.

Then you note the concession owners, ever mindful they only have a few days of harvest. To see the expression when a would-be customer heads in their direction and then unexpectedly turns to another booth provides visual words in frowns that soon evaporate as they acquire someone else ready to do business.

The many fair visitors who are interested in special events or livestock classifications follow the judges work with close attention.

It is from observing the judge that styles and types become popular. Dress styles still may be set in Paris, but for livestock it is America's show ring.

Mishap Second At Fair

Sunday's Nebraska State Fair tragedy was the second in 39 years both for the State Fair and for William T Collins Shows.

The first accident occurred Sept. 1, 1958, when a whirling car from the "Fly-O-Plane" ride broke loose and shot 60 feet through the air carrying a pair of passengers into the crowded midway.

Three bystanders were also injured.

Landed on Wheels

The plane broke loose just as the ride had started, flew through the air and landed on its wheels. It rolled over once.

William T. Collins, owner of the show, said he had been operating the ride since 1944 without accident and similar rides had been used for more than 20 years. The accident in 1958 was his first.

The accident Sunday was Collins' second in his 39 years of running carnivals.

Jinx?

"Lincoln seems to be a jinx," Collins said.

The Sky Ride, which crashed Sunday, is the most popular Collins has, he said, grossing between $20,000 - $30,000 weekly. There is only one similar machine in the world, and it is playing in the East.

Several lawsuits were filed in connection with the 1958 accident but were dropped after damages paid.

Hospitals' Response Is Praised

Staffs at three Lincoln hospitals were praised Sunday for their response to the State Fair Sky Ride accident.

"Cooperation of the staff was wonderful," Sister Ann Frances, administrator at St. Elizabeth Hospital, said, adding that house staff doctors were immediately on the scene, as well as nurses, sisters, orderlies and the radiology and lab departments.

Nurses on duty at the time said the doctors were "wonderful," according to a Lincoln General official.

"We knew they were coming in," a member of the emergency ward staff at Bryan Memorial said, "and we were ready."

Grief, Terror, Relief Expressed

Tales of terror, grief and relief poured forth Sunday after the collapse of the Sky Ride at the State Fair

A high school student said, "It was terrible. I'll remember some of those faces the rest of my life."

And a Seward father who was aboard the ill-fated carnival ride with his two small children said, "We must have been as close as we could have been to the good Lord's help, because it was only luck for those who escaped."

Mr. and Mrs. William Gohl of Culbertson were ready to leave the fair and head home when they decided to let their three children take a few more rides. While waiting, Gohl, 47, and his wife, Melva, 45, got aboard the Sky Ride.

Hurtled To Ground

A few minutes later Mrs. Gohl was hurtled to the ground when the ride collapsed. She suffered a fractured, dislocated shoulder which required surgery. Gohl suffered a bump injury to his lower left leg.

"I kept thinking it was going to hit the ground but it just kept bouncing," he said.

Gohl said someone came with a ladder and he crawled down.

"I prayed my family wasn't hurt," said Mrs. Dick Stoddard of Seward. She had remained on the ground while her husband, Dick, and their daughter, Debbie, 13, and a son, Dean, 7, rode the Sky Ride.

Burst Into Tears

The Stoddard family was among those still clinging in the cars high above the Fairgrounds until being rescued by Lincoln Fire Department snorkel equipment.

Linda Bollwitt, a high school student from Neligh, said she burst into tears when she saw the injured persons.

"There were people crying and screaming, mothers were walking around dazed looking for their children wondering whether they had been hurt or not. It was terrible. I'll remember some of those faces the rest of my life," she said.

John Stevens Was Lifetime Falls Citian

Born July 2, 1914, he was employed by the Bartlett and Co. grain elevator in Falls City.

Survivors include his widow, Dorothy; one son, Lindley; two daughters, Sherry and Deanna Torkelson of Topeka, Kan., two grandchildren parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stevens Sr., Falls City; brothers, Curtis, Pomona, Calif.; Chester, Trout Creek, Mont.; Floyd, Auburn; Clarence, Preston; Otho, Horton, Kan.; sisters, Ruth Cromer, Falls City; Emma Whitefield, Albany, Ore.; Chlorene France and Delilah McCall, both of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

He was preceded in death by two brothers.

James C. Perrie Scotland Native

Survivors include his wife, parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Perrie Jr., of Washington, D.C.; daughters, Martha Kerschner, Mrs. Jennie Markland, Nancy and Shirley, all of Hastings and Mrs. Leilani Morgan of Campbell; sons, Ronald and James, and one sister, Barbara Ann, of Washington, D. C.

Perrie, partially blind, was born in Glasgow, Scotland in 1921 and came to Washington, D. C. when he was three.

Mishap Second At Fair

Sunday's Nebraska State Fair tragedy was the second in 39 years both for the State Fair and for William T. Collins Shows.

The first accident occurred Sept. 1, 1958, when a whirling car from the "Fly-O-Plane" ride broke loose and shot 60 feet through the air carrying a pair of passengers into the crowded midway.

Three bystanders were also injured.

Jinx?

"Lincoln seems to be a jinx," Collins said.

The Sky Ride, which crashed Sunday, is the most popular Collins has, he said, grossing between $20,000 - $30,000 weekly. There is only one similar machine in the world, and it is playing in the East.

Several lawsuits were filed in connection with the 1958 accident but were dropped after damages paid.

Hospitals' Response Is Praised

Staffs at three Lincoln hospitals were praised Sunday for their response to the State Fair Sky Ride accident.

"Cooperation of the staff was wonderful," Sister Ann Frances, administrator at St. Elizabeth Hospital, said, adding that house staff doctors were immediately on the scene, as well as nurses, sisters, orderlies and the radiology and lab departments.

Nurses on duty at the time said the doctors were "wonderful," according to a Lincoln General official.

"We knew they were coming in," a member of the emergency ward staff at Bryan Memorial said, "and we were ready."

Grief, Terror, Relief Expressed

Tales of terror, grief and relief poured forth Sunday after the collapse of the Sky Ride at the State Fair.

A high school student said, "It was terrible. I'll remember some of those faces the rest of my life."

And a Seward father who was aboard the ill-fated carnival ride with his two small children said, "We must have been as close as we could have been to the good Lord's help, because it was only luck for those who escaped."

Mr. and Mrs. William Gohl of Culbertson were ready to leave the fair and head home when they decided to let their three children take a few more rides. While waiting, Gohl, 47, and his wife, Melva, 45, got aboard the Sky Ride.

Hurtled To Ground

A few minutes later Mrs. Gohl was hurtled to the ground when the ride collapsed. She suffered a fractured, dislocated shoulder which required surgery. Gohl suffered a bump injury to his lower left leg.

"I kept thinking it was going to hit the ground but it just kept bouncing," he said.

Gohl said someone came with a ladder and he crawled down.

"I prayed my family wasn't hurt," said Mrs. Dick Stoddard of Seward. She had remained on the ground while her husband, Dick, and their daughter, Debbie, 13, and a son, Dean, 7, rode the Sky Ride.

Burst Into Tears

The Stoddard family was among those still clinging in the cars high above the Fairgrounds until being rescued by Lincoln Fire Department snorkel equipment.

Linda Bollwitt, a high school student from Neligh, said she burst into tears when she saw the injured persons.

"There were people crying and screaming, mothers were walking around dazed looking for their children wondering whether they had been hurt or not. It was terrible. I'll remember some of those faces the rest of my life," she said.

John Stevens Was Lifetime Falls Citian

Born July 2, 1914, he was employed by the Bartlett and Co. grain elevator in Falls City.

Survivors include his widow, Dorothy; one son, Lindley; two daughters, Sherry and Deanna Torkelson of Topeka, Kan., two grandchildren parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stevens Sr., Falls City; brothers, Curtis, Pomona, Calif.; Chester, Trout Creek, Mont.; Floyd, Auburn; Clarence, Preston; Otho, Horton, Kan.; sisters, Ruth Cromer, Falls City; Emma Whitefield, Albany, Ore.; Chlorene France and Delilah McCall, both of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

He was preceded in death by two brothers.

James C. Perrie Scotland Native

Survivors include his wife, parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Perrie Jr., of Washington, D.C.; daughters, Martha Kerschner, Mrs. Jennie Markland, Nancy and Shirley, all of Hastings and Mrs. Leilani Morgan of Campbell; sons, Ronald and James, and one sister, Barbara Ann, of Washington, D. C.

Perrie, partially blind, was born in Glasgow, Scotland in 1921 and came to Washington, D. C. when he was three.

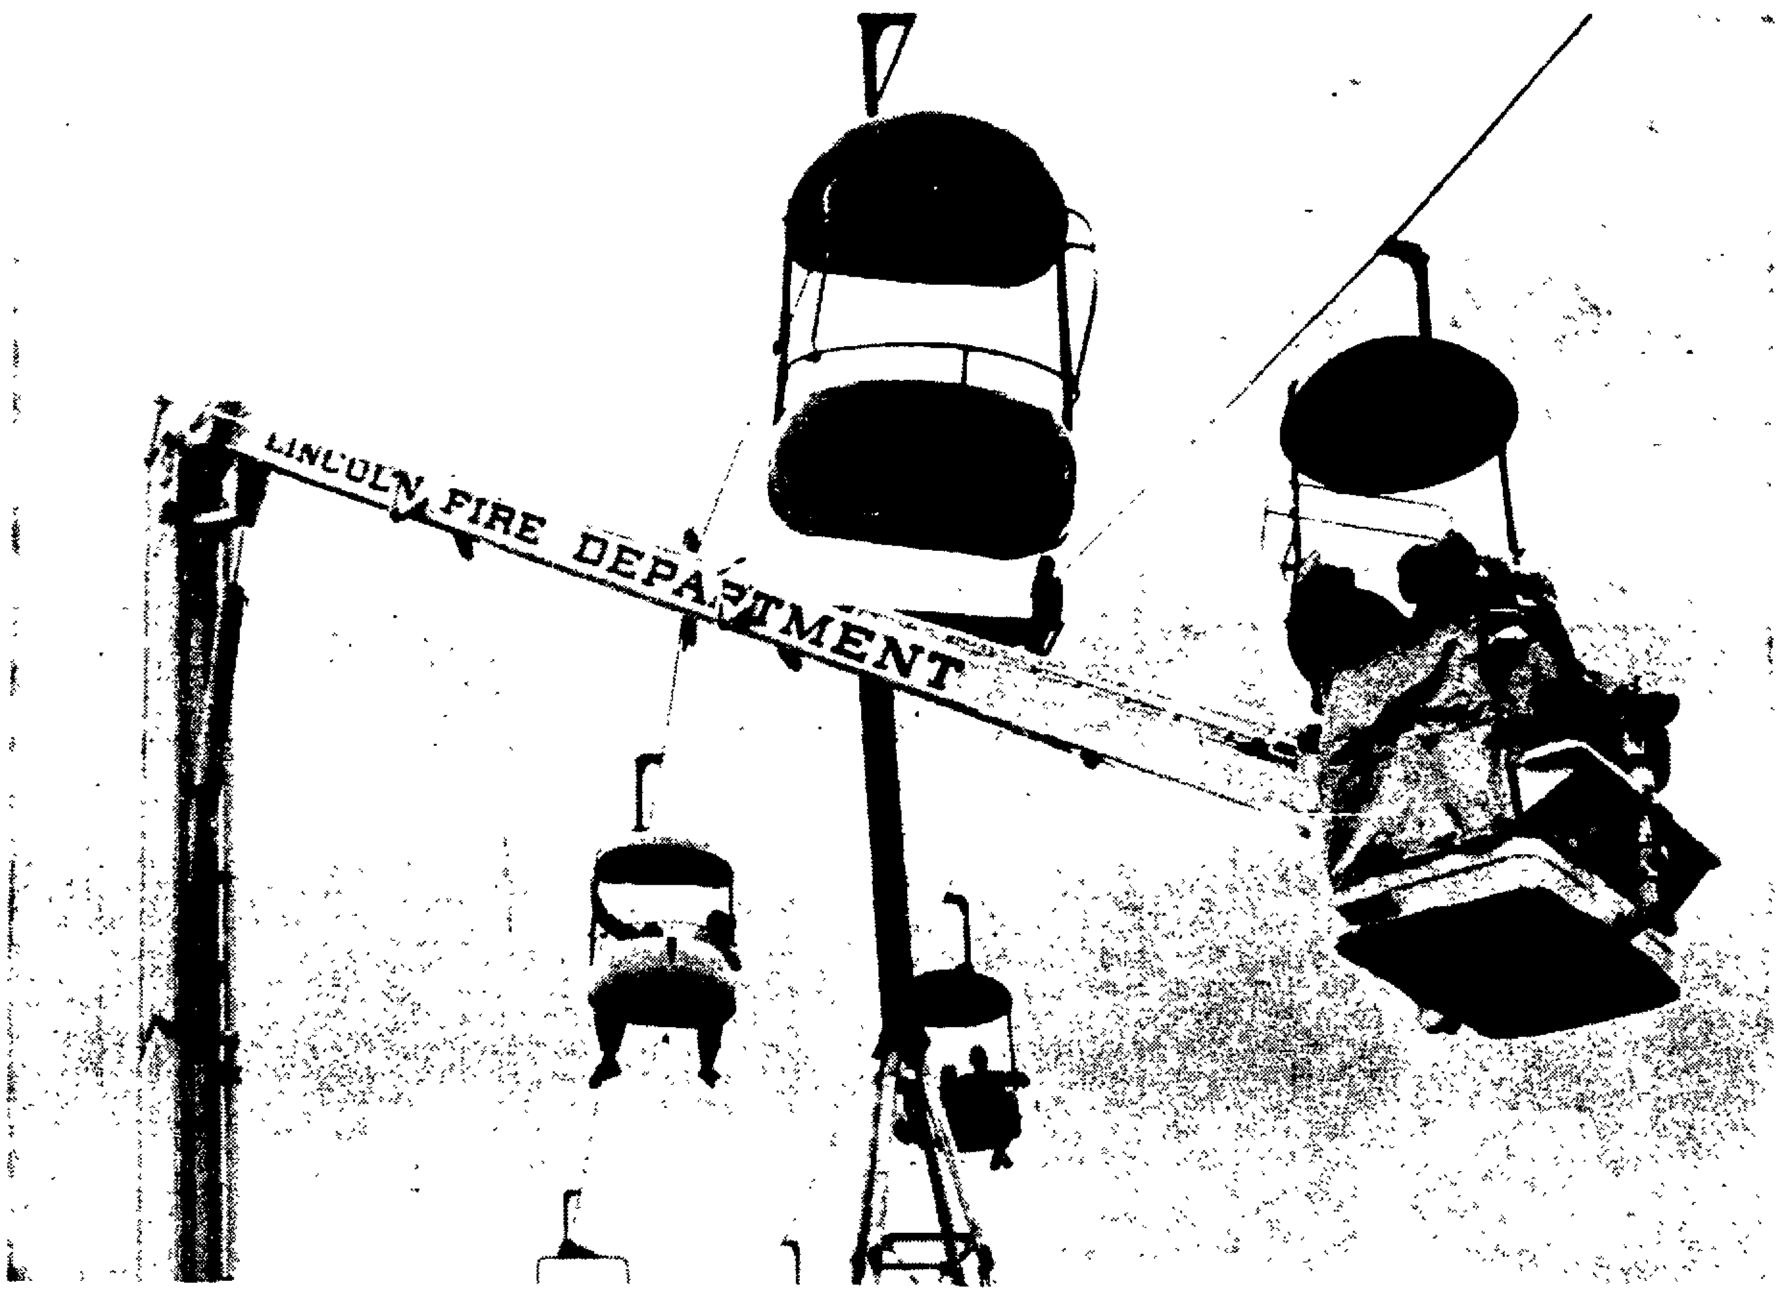
Tragedy Strikes At State Fair Midway



RESCUE . . . Lincoln Fire Department snorkel apparatus removes stranded riders.

Boy Jumps

Tony Anzaldo, 8, son of Mrs. Marie Anzaldo of Omaha doesn't remember it, but in the panic and confusion of the Sky Ride tragedy, he jumped some 25 feet from the gondola to the ground.

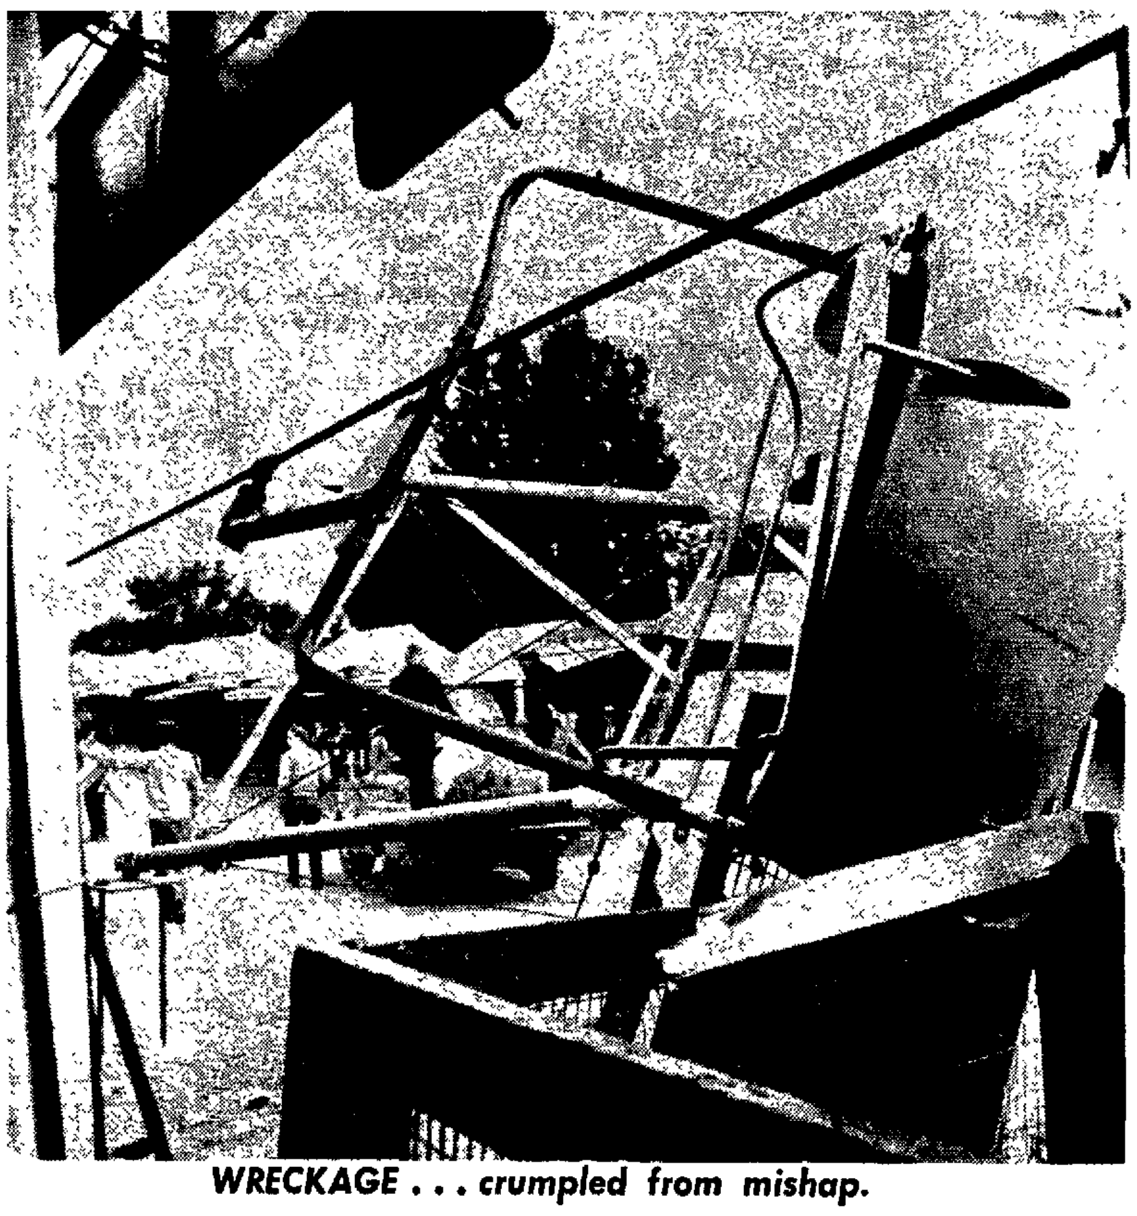
Tony and his brother Tommie, 6, were passengers in the Sky Ride during the tragedy at the state fair.

Tony suffered a cut leg and possibly a sprain, but was not taken to a hospital. His brother Tommie received more serious injuries and was in Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Tony said he heard noises that "didn't sound right," and then he looked around and saw "people screaming and flying around in the air. I thought I was going to die," Tony said.

But the boy doesn't remember what happened after that. His mother does, though. She remembers the moment of terror when she began looking for the boy and then saw his body hurtling to the ground. She also thought he was dead.

And she said there was nothing to match the feeling of relief she had when she saw him get up and come running to her crying.



WRECKAGE . . . crumpled from mishap.

Rolling Black At Twilight

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Storms produce different reactions in different people. Some people have a dreadful fear of storms, others can take them or leave them and others find them fascinating. If you enjoy a storm, the way to get the most out of one is to watch it coming up, not from a window but from an open outside view. Your view is much more limited from the living room, for instance, than it is from the front yard.

Mystery Of The Storm

To watch a storm move in is to witness one of the great wonders of nature. It is estimated that at any given moment of time, there are some 1,800 thunderstorms in progress throughout the world. This, of course, includes areas of the world where such storms occur on an average of two out of every three days. In contrast, no area in the United States will average more than one thunderstorm in about every five days. This still is a lot of activity in the skies. And despite the commonplace nature of such storms, their total makeup and their causes are yet beyond the full understanding of man.

Fortunately, one doesn't have to understand totally the phenomenon of a thunderstorm to appreciate its magnificence. To watch the storm developing is to watch the creation of a real work of art, to say nothing of the blessing to mankind represented in the storm and the moisture it brings.

A gathering of fleecy clouds will tell you of the possible approach of a storm. If one is destined for the area, the fleecy clouds soon give way to a more massive accumulation until there are great patches of the sky that are filled with blackness.

As you watch the development, you are treated to an electrical display of rare genius. Lightning is a complex reaction of conflicting forces within the storm's cloud center but it is a brilliant show to the naked eye. It seems to skip from one place to another and often to be touching the earth at some far distance on the horizon. Following on the heels of the lightning is the resulting thunder clap. Supposedly, one can estimate the distance of the storm by measuring the time between the lightning flash and the thunder clap but the activity is often so intense that it is impossible to associate any particular flash and any particular thunder clap. As the storm gathers intensity, its cloud mass becomes more and more dense and formidable. You watch it in the distance and you can't help but contemplate how men must have scanned the skies in earlier days in anticipation of the life-saving moisture that was there.

And how many anxious moments they must have had. At one minute, the storm seems to be moving directly toward you with a speed and ferocity that make a rain a certainty. But in another minute the complexion of things has changed. Suddenly a brighter spot develops in the ominous cloud bank and it seems that this will be the part of the storm that will center over you. The next thing you know, you look straight up and there is a heavy concentration of blackness right over your head. You don't even know from where it came but it holds the promise of rain. A few drops of rain do fall but not even enough to send you indoors, not enough even to settle the dust in a parched field of corn some 75 years ago.

How those drops must have raised the hopes of the early pioneers as they saw their very existence hanging in the balance. What a sinking feeling it must have been to see even the few drops stop and the dark cloud overhead move on in another direction. But by the time you have passed from great anticipation to despair as a result of that cloud cover, the black mass in the distance has regrouped and is rolling in again upon you.

Uncertainty again takes over. As the sun sinks in the west, the storm center seems to grow with fury and become even darker. Its direction, however, is hard to nail down. It seems to move to the east one minute and then to the west the next until your confidence is totally shaken. Off in many directions are what seem to be separate cloud formations of their own, the fringes of the real storm that offer many spectacles but little moisture.

Life-Giving Moisture

Then once again come the halting drops of water. But this time they don't stop and soon give way to a downpour that sends you scurrying for cover. How they must have danced at that in the days prior to irrigation and other agricultural advances that have made the farmer at least a little less dependent upon the elements. How they must have thrilled to standing in the downpour when it meant the difference between live and dead cattle, a harvest or a long hungry winter. Once the rain starts, the storm has actually reached its peak of intensity but it appears only to gain in momentum.

Very quickly the entire sky is shrouded in blackness and no opening is visible for as far as the eye can see. One wonders if the event is one that will ever be fully understood but he has no doubts that it will always be magnificent.

Labor's Role More Complex

As all areas of our national life have done, the labor movement on this Labor Day has seen a lot of change in its character and responsibilities. For instance, organized labor is no longer the kind of adversary to management that it once was. Rather than two divergent groups seeking to get the best of one another, labor and management today bargain in the light of a common interest.

How they might best serve this interest is not always the same in the eyes of both but each clearly realizes that there is a need and place for the other. Labor alone faces a far different kind of economy these days than was the case when the first unions were organized prior to the turn of the last century.

The nation's genius has done fantastic things to productivity, so accelerated it that what was once the work of many men is now the work of a few. At the same time, other facets of the economy were undergoing great changes and we have reached the point today where no one doubts that our economic system, as a whole, is a real science.

This has meant growing responsibility on the part of the labor movement and the trend will grow only more intense as the years go by. Rather than a diminishing role, labor has an even more important role to play in the future of the nation and the lives of millions of people.

This responsibility demands leadership that is dedicated, sincere, intelligent and honest. Labor has cause to be proud of its past role in the development of this nation and looks today, on this Labor Day, upon a scene which offers it a challenge that has become more demanding and more complex with the passage of time.

Writing Did It

After careful consideration we must conclude that if there is any deterioration in morals nowadays plus a rise in bad citizenship it is due to the decline in hand writing. Of course we doubt the moral degeneration part because we can't find any time in history that mankind set any record for good morals.

Today we have little practical use for handwriting because of technology. Typists are scarcely needed because modern copying machines can turn out infinitely more material at greatly less cost. And nationally we are all now just a bunch of numbers.

In times past it was different. Back between 1800 to 1860 there was a man named Platt Rogers Spencer who was a whizz with pen and ink. He developed a fine slanted way of writing and started a business college. His students wrote some English but spent the greater share of their time depicting eagles and lions all done with a few sweeps of the pen. This stultified the minds of the writers, but it added art and excitement to bills of lading, mortgages and general bookkeeping. Of course it all ended badly in a great Civil War which in turn brought greater moral tone to writing.

For 50 years after that we learned to write by the copy book method. This taught us to follow a leader who was a person whom we never got to see. He selected various mottos and slogans all calculated to twist our minds which he had printed at the top of every page. In the hundred blank lines below we had to copy this wisdom. There were such statements as "The early bird gets the worm." But the copy book did not dwell on the misfortunes of the early worm, and we only learned half the truth.

Then came the crowning blow—the Palmer Method. The mind was wholly eliminated in favor of a forearm muscle and the student threw away his copy book and spent all his early years making up and down lines and circles with no moral point at all. This method succeeded in destroying the intellects of several successive generations. This fellow Palmer was a great subversive and carried us to our present amoral state.

The Iowa Adventure

One agricultural experiment now underway at LeClaire, Iowa, will be well worth watching

It is a farmer-owned stock corporation which will acquire 2,000 acres and put it into continuous corn production. Stock to the amount of $675,000 is being offered.

The organizer, Carl Lippold, farms 340 acres himself. He says that with modern machinery and modern methods three working farmers can handle the production on 2,000 acres. He proposes to use heavy equipment, to practice minimum tillage and harvest on a 24 hour day basis with picker shellers. And since modern methods do not call for crop rotation and since homesteads are eliminated by such a small labor force he expects to produce more than 200,000 bushels of corn each year. No other farm activity but corn production is planned by the corporation.

In terms of production this is not an idle dream. It can be done, and with farmer-stockholder workmen it should be free of labor trouble and migratory workers. It could bring new prosperity to Iowa farm operation and fit into the national pattern of bigness.

But if it does succeed and thus sets a pattern for the crop growing regions, it would raise the question of what will become of the commonwealths of states like Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, and the others, whose principal activity is farming. Iowa, for instance, could lose most of its farming population. Nebraska could lose less because it is agriculturally more diversified. But with three men for every 2,000 acres it would be a pretty quiet countryside and would raise the question of the political welfare of the states involved.

Organized Labor Now Recognized

WASHINGTON — President Johnson was giving one of his off-the-record stag dinners. The guest list is not published but the guests were chiefly business executives and labor leaders.

After dinner, as the cigars were passed, each guest picked up a little slip of paper on which was written either "talk" or "write." This meant that some guests were tabbed to speak, others were to write the President his views on the state of the world.

Henry Ford got a slip that read "write" and later wrote the President a constructive letter about the state of the nation. Big, lumbering George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, drew instructions to "talk" and in due time was called upon for a speech.

"We have developed in the United States the best kind of system in the world," he told the presidential guests. "It's a system in which labor wants the employers to make money and we want to make money.

"The American system is like a pie. There's a slice for everyone. We don't want to be unreasonable. The more money industry makes, the more money we make. Labor wants to help make the pie bigger and better. I like this kind of a system."

Business leaders probably applauded as much as labor leaders as Meany sat down.

The national holiday, Labor Day, was established when labor was a struggling minority in the United States, shot up in the Carnegie steel strike of 1892, and harassed by federal troops in the bloody Mingo, W.Va., coal strike of 1919. Even as late as 1937, the United Steel Workers were fired on by Republic steel private "troops" in the "Memorial Day Massacre" in Chicago when the union tried to organize the plant.

Today, in contrast, the major unions have reached such power that they can close down an entire industry, paralyze parts of the nation. Or they can force a contract which could result in a new round of inflation, or they can prevent American wheat farmers from selling wheat to Russia merely by threatening to strike all ships carrying wheat—which has been the case during the past two years.

In three short decades labor has attained power which no one would have dreamed possible when the late Sen. Bob Wagner, father of the mayor of New York, persuaded Congress and President Roosevelt to pass the Wagner Act guaranteeing the bargaining rights of labor.

And the big question today is whether labor is using its power wisely.

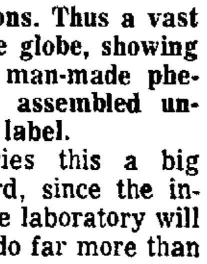
Military Moves Into Space Plans



WASHINGTON—The hush-hush curtain around the Manned Orbiting Laboratory is so thick that the atmosphere is a little like the wartime Manhattan Project that produced the atomic bomb.

This first entry of the military into space would undoubtedly, if wartime censorship were applied, be off limits for comment. Official discussion thus far has been phrased in general hints and cautious intimations of what MOL can and cannot do.

But those closest to the lengthy review of the project and its final authorization swear that its thrust will be for peace and not for war. Before President Johnson announced that the Air Force was authorized to develop the $1.5 billion laboratory in outer space the proposal had been surveyed from every angle by the space council of which Vice President Hubert Humphrey is chairman.

Piecing together what has been said so far about MOL and with a bit of conjecture the picture that emerges is one of a far-out operation and far out not just in space geography. It is the application of techniques of communication and observation matching the wildest science fiction.

MOL is a step forward — and a giant step — in the capacity to know instantly and to communicate with the same speed what is happening on the earth, in the waters around the earth or in the air above. The first step was the U-2 spy plane which, as the boast went, could photograph ants on the sidewalk from 60,000 feet.

But compared to the second step, the Samos satellite, the U-2 was a comparatively crude instrument. Also under a classified label so that no official can discuss it, Samos has from outer space made detailed photographs of much of the earth's surface and transmitted them back to receiving stations. Thus a vast mosaic of the globe, showing natural and man-made phenomenon, is assembled under a secret label.

MOL carries this a big jump forward, since the instruments the laboratory will contain can do far more than photograph the surface. Radio frequencies, radiation, heat, sound — all are believed to be within the scope of the laboratory. Moreover, men working in their shirt sleeves — not in space suits — will be using instruments hitherto undreamed of.

Both the President and defense officials stress that MOL will not in any way violate the United Nations resolution sponsored by the United States to keep weapons of destruction out of space.

But the disturbing question around the world, despite these disclaimers, is whether MOL will not now touch off a military race with the Soviets in space. The Defense Department briefer was asked if the assessment had been made on how the Russians might react to a manned military laboratory overflying the Soviet Union. He replied that he assumed they do not object, since they overfly the United States.

Profiles In Science

Cold is a different thing to different people. To certain scientists zero degrees Fahrenheit could seem "positively torrid." Minus 150 deg. F might be "cool," perhaps, to these "cryogenic" engineers, who are concerned chiefly with materials at the coldest of all possible temperatures — absolute zero, minus 460 deg. F.

Cryogenic engineers have so far not been able to get anything that cold. The coldest temperature they have achieved is minus 459.7 deg. F.

Cryogenics is a word from the Greek "kryos," meaning frost. It is today one of the most promising fields of scientific investigation, mostly because at extremely low temperatures the molecular vibration in metals and other materials slows down and practically stops. At such low temperatures, called cryogenic temperatures, electrical current does not meet the resistance it does at normal temperatures.

When electricity flows, the electrons are moving from one place to another along a piece of wire, metal or through a liquid. The less resistance the conductor offers, the easier the flow of current. It has long been known that supercold metal wires conduct better than warm, hot or even cool ones. But superconductivity does not occur until the metals are cooled to cryogenic temperatures near absolute zero, when their resistance to electricity disappears. Once a current is started through such a supercooled conductor, it can continue almost forever.

Superconductivity is not new. It was discovered a half-century ago by a Dutch physicist, Heike Kamerlingh Onnes (1853-1926), who was a professor at the University of Leyden. He was awarded a Nobel Prize in 1913.

In 1911, while Onnes was studying mercury at cold temperatures, he found that its electrical conductivity increased gradually as he slowly reduced the temperature. Then, as the mercury neared absolute zero, the resistance disappeared altogether.

He made a loop of mercury wire and started a current flowing in it. If the wire had kept any of its resistance, the current would have died almost immediately. But Onnes found it kept flowing in the loop as long as he kept it at cryogenic temperatures.

Superconductivity will revolutionize modern life as it will affect almost everything eventually that involves electrical power. There is even a new field of study called "cryobiology," the relation of life to cold. Metabolism is stopped completely at cryogenic temperatures, and some feel that one day it may be possible to place living men in states of suspended animation, ship them to another planet and revive them as healthy (and as young) as ever. That is just an idea.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Learning Versatility In Studies

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

There are many good approaches to study, but some that work in one situation will not work in another. For example, learning definitions in exact words brings success in studying geometry, logic or law. But to always learn definitions by rote overtaxes the memory and makes recall difficult, particularly in biology and physiology. Here, definitions in the student's own words, associated with mental pictures, are more effective.

This same dependence on visualizing is fatal in a subject like algebra where a slight difference in symbols completely changes the meaning. Math problems must be thought out in words.

The neglect of details when first reading an assignment makes possible a better grasp of the general ideas. Yet a student who is satisfied with general meanings only runs into grief when studying mathematics and science. While the successful geometry student learns to hold many factors in mind and brings them to bear simultaneously on the problem, the successful student of arithmetic and algebra must learn the use of pencil and paper in the solution of problems.

Pencil and paper are also useful in the organization of themes and in formulating the answer to essay-type questions.

The law student underlines and reads on, to return later for exact memorization where necessary.

For most students, underlining the text and taking extensive class notes consistently postpone learning. Study time and class time are wasted and the inevitable cram session produces little permanent learning.

The efficient reader studies new words as he encounters them. Only through pronouncing them can he establish the ability to use them easily. Yet pronouncing words while reading, if allowed to become a habit, slows the reader to about 200 words a minute. The very operation of reading takes enough attention to distract the student from grasping the meaning. Three readings, each of a different type, may be demanded for best results. First, a study of new words; second, a reading for meaning; and, third, a more rapid reading after the mind has been freed to study the ideas presented without the actual mechanics of reading the words.

BOB CONSIDINE

No Time For Gloating In Space Race

NEW YORK—It's still a horse-race, this contest with Russia to git there fustest with the mostest.

Here's how it stands now: We hold the record for the longest manned space flight —190 hours and 56 minutes (Cooper and Conrad) compared to their best of 119 hours and six minutes (Lt. Col. Valery Bykovsky). Our people have been in orbit for a total of 639 hours and 48 minutes; their people 507 hours and 16 minutes. We've had nine manned spacecraft put in orbit, against their eight. Our Geminis can maneuver a bit; Russia's Voskhods apparently cannot.

Gordon Cooper is the first spaceman to make a second orbital flight, is far out in front of the nearest Russian with his total time in space of 225 hours 15 minutes. Ed White stayed outside his spacecraft 12 minutes longer than Lt. Col. Leonov, the pioneer "walker."

The Russians, on the other hand, have put three men up in the same capsule. One of these, a scientist, went up in an ordinary business suit — the "shirtsleeve environment" we will not have until the Air Force's Manned Orbiting Laboratory is orbited in 1967 or 1968. They also have had two spacecraft aloft simultaneously and within four miles of a link-up. Their boosters are two or three times more powerful than the Titan II. Their capsules are built to make soft landings, via last-minute retro-rockets, on firm ground.

Obviously, there is little cause for resting on the oars now being pulled in the National Space Agency.

Why must astronauts come down in the water (there were sharks cruising near the Cooper-Conrad capsule last Sunday) while the cosmonauts alight on terra firma?

That question is frequently asked of space officials. The official answer is that it is more convenient and safer to do it our way. The launching pad (and finish line) at Cape Kennedy is right near the ocean, there's a necklace of friendly islands not too far out in the water, the capsules are seaworthy, we've got plenty of ships and search planes, and how would you like to have them tumbling down into Main Street or Times Square?

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Storms produce different reactions in different people. Some people have a dreadful fear of storms, others can take them or leave them and others find them fascinating. If you enjoy a storm, the way to get the most out of one is to watch it coming up, not from a window but from an open outside view. Your view is much more limited from the living room, for instance, than it is from the front yard.

To watch a storm move in is to witness one of the great wonders of nature. It is estimated that at any given moment of time, there are some 1,800 thunderstorms in progress throughout the world. This, of course, includes areas of the world where such storms occur on an average of two out of every three days. In contrast, no area in the United States will average more than one thunderstorm in about every five days. This still is a lot of activity in the skies. And despite the commonplace nature of such storms, their total makeup and their causes are yet beyond the full understanding of man.

Mystery Of The Storm

Fortunately, one doesn't have to understand totally the phenomenon of a thunderstorm to appreciate its magnificence. To watch the storm developing is to watch the creation of a real work of art, to say nothing of the blessing to mankind represented in the storm and the moisture it brings.

A gathering of fleecy clouds will tell you of the possible approach of a storm. If one is destined for the area, the fleecy clouds soon give way to a more massive accumulation until there are great patches of the sky that are filled with blackness.

As you watch the development, you are treated to an electrical display of rare genius. Lightning is a complex reaction of conflicting forces within the storm's cloud center but it is a brilliant show to the naked eye. It seems to skip from one place to another and often to be touching the earth at some far distance on the horizon. Following on the heels of the lightning is the resulting thunder clap. Supposedly, one can estimate the distance of the storm by measuring the time between the lightning flash and the thunder clap but the activity is often so intense that it is impossible to associate any particular flash and any particular thunder clap. As the storm gathers intensity, its cloud mass becomes more and more dense and formidable. You watch it in the distance and you can't help but contemplate how men must have scanned the skies in earlier days in anticipation of the life-saving moisture that was there.

And how many anxious moments they must have had. At one minute, the storm seems to be moving directly toward you with a speed and ferocity that make a rain a certainty. But in another minute the complexion of things has changed. Suddenly a brighter spot develops in the ominous cloud bank and it seems that this will be the part of the storm that will center over you. The next thing you know, you look straight up and there is a heavy concentration of blackness right over your head. You don't even know from where it came but it holds the promise of rain. A few drops of rain do fall but not even enough to send you indoors, not enough even to settle the dust in a parched field of corn some 75 years ago.

How those drops must have raised the hopes of the early pioneers as they saw their very existence hanging in the balance. What a sinking feeling it must have been to see even the few drops stop and the dark cloud overhead move on in another direction. But by the time you have passed from great anticipation to despair as a result of that cloud cover, the black mass in the distance has regrouped and is rolling in again upon you.

Uncertainty again takes over. As the sun sinks in the west, the storm center seems to grow with fury and become even darker. Its direction, however, is hard to nail down. It seems to move to the east one minute and then to the west the next until your confidence is totally shaken. Off in many directions are what seem to be separate cloud formations of their own, the fringes of the real storm that offer many spectacles but little moisture.

Then once again come the halting drops of water. But this time they don't stop and soon give way to a downpour that sends you scurrying for cover. How they must have danced at that in the days prior to irrigation and other agricultural advances that have made the farmer at least a little less dependent upon the elements. How they must have thrilled to standing in the downpour when it meant the difference between live and dead cattle, a harvest or a long hungry winter. Once the rain starts, the storm has actually reached its peak of intensity but it appears only to gain in momentum.

Life-Giving Moisture

Very quickly the entire sky is shrouded in blackness and no opening is visible for as far as the eye can see. One wonders if the event is one that will ever be fully understood but he has no doubts that it will always be magnificent.

Labor's Role More Complex

As all areas of our national life have done, the labor movement on this Labor Day has seen a lot of change in its character and responsibilities. For instance, organized labor is no longer the kind of adversary to management that it once was. Rather than two divergent groups seeking to get the best of one another, labor and management today bargain in the light of a common interest.

How they might best serve this interest is not always the same in the eyes of both but each clearly realizes that there is a need and place for the other. Labor alone faces a far different kind of economy these days than was the case when the first unions were organized prior to the turn of the last century.

The nation's genius has done fantastic things to productivity, so accelerated it that what was once the work of many men is now the work of a few. At the same time, other facets of the economy were undergoing great changes and we have reached the point today where no one doubts that our economic system, as a whole, is a real science.

This has meant growing responsibility on the part of the labor movement and the trend will grow only more intense as the years go by. Rather than a diminishing role, labor has an even more important role to play in the future of the nation and the lives of millions of people.

This responsibility demands leadership that is dedicated, sincere, intelligent and honest. Labor has cause to be proud of its past role in the development of this nation and looks today, on this Labor Day, upon a scene which offers it a challenge that has become more demanding and more complex with the passage of time.

Writing Did It

After careful consideration we must conclude that if there is any deterioration in morals nowadays plus a rise in bad citizenship it is due to the decline in hand writing. Of course we doubt the moral degeneration part because we can't find any time in history that mankind set any record for good morals.

Today we have little practical use for handwriting because of technology. Typists are scarcely needed because modern copying machines can turn out infinitely more material at greatly less cost. And nationally we are all now just a bunch of numbers.

In times past it was different. Back between 1800 to 1860 there was a man named Platt Rogers Spencer who was a whizz with pen and ink. He developed a fine slanted way of writing and started a business college. His students wrote some English but spent the greater share of their time depicting eagles and lions all done with a few sweeps of the pen. This stultified the minds of the writers, but it added art and excitement to bills of lading, mortgages and general bookkeeping. Of course it all ended badly in a great Civil War which in turn brought greater moral tone to writing.

For 50 years after that we learned to write by the copy book method. This taught us to follow a leader who was a person whom we never got to see. He selected various mottos and slogans all calculated to twist our minds which he had printed at the top of every page. In the hundred blank lines below we had to copy this wisdom. There were such statements as "The early bird gets the worm." But the copy book did not dwell on the misfortunes of the early worm, and we only learned half the truth.

Then came the crowning blow—the Palmer Method. The mind was wholly eliminated in favor of a forearm muscle and the student threw away his copy book and spent all his early years making up and down lines and circles with no moral point at all. This method succeeded in destroying the intellects of several successive generations. This fellow Palmer was a great subversive and carried us to our present amoral state.

The Iowa Adventure

One agricultural experiment now underway at LeClaire, Iowa, will be well worth watching.

It is a farmer-owned stock corporation which will acquire 2,000 acres and put it into continuous corn production. Stock to the amount of $675,000 is being offered.

The organizer, Carl Lippold, farms 340 acres himself. He says that with modern machinery and modern methods three working farmers can handle the production on 2,000 acres. He proposes to use heavy equipment, to practice minimum tillage and harvest on a 24 hour day basis with picker shellers. And since modern methods do not call for crop rotation and since homesteads are eliminated by such a small labor force he expects to produce more than 200,000 bushels of corn each year. No other farm activity but corn production is planned by the corporation.

In terms of production this is not an idle dream. It can be done, and with farmer-stockholder workmen it should be free of labor trouble and migratory workers. It could bring new prosperity to Iowa farm operation and fit into the national pattern of bigness.

But if it does succeed and thus sets a pattern for the crop growing regions, it would raise the question of what will become of the commonwealths of states like Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, and the others, whose principal activity is farming. Iowa, for instance, could lose most of its farming population. Nebraska could lose less because it is agriculturally more diversified. But with three men for every 2,000 acres it would be a pretty quiet countryside and would raise the question of the political welfare of the states involved.

Organized Labor Now Recognized

WASHINGTON — President Johnson was giving one of his off-the-record stag dinners. The guest list is not published but the guests were chiefly business executives and labor leaders.

After dinner, as the cigars were passed, each guest picked up a little slip of paper on which was written either "talk" or "write." This meant that some guests were tabbed to speak, others were to write the President his views on the state of the world.

Henry Ford got a slip that read "write" and later wrote the President a constructive letter about the state of the nation. Big, lumbering George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, drew instructions to "talk" and in due time was called upon for a speech.

"We have developed in the United States the best kind of system in the world," he told the presidential guests. "It's a system in which labor wants the employers to make money and we want to make money.

"The American system is like a pie. There's a slice for everyone. We don't want to be unreasonable. The more money industry makes, the more money we make. Labor wants to help make the pie bigger and better. I like this kind of a system."

Business leaders probably applauded as much as labor leaders as Meany sat down.

The national holiday, Labor Day, was established when labor was a struggling minority in the United States, shot up in the Carnegie steel strike of 1892, and harassed by federal troops in the bloody Mingo, W.Va., coal strike of 1919. Even as late as 1937, the United Steel Workers were fired on by Republic steel private "troops" in the "Memorial Day Massacre" in Chicago when the union tried to organize the plant.

Today, in contrast, the major unions have reached such power that they can close down an entire industry, paralyze parts of the nation. Or they can force a contract which could result in a new round of inflation, or they can prevent American wheat farmers from selling wheat to Russia merely by threatening to strike all ships carrying wheat—which has been the case during the past two years.

In three short decades labor has attained power which no one would have dreamed possible when the late Sen. Bob Wagner, father of the mayor of New York, persuaded Congress and President Roosevelt to pass the Wagner Act guaranteeing the bargaining rights of labor.

And the big question today is whether labor is using its power wisely.

Military Moves Into Space Plans

WASHINGTON—The hush-hush curtain around the Manned Orbiting Laboratory is so thick that the atmosphere is a little like the wartime Manhattan Project that produced the atomic bomb.

This first entry of the military into space would undoubtedly, if wartime censorship were applied, be off limits for comment. Official discussion thus far has been phrased in general hints and cautious intimations of what MOL can and cannot do.

But those closest to the lengthy review of the project and its final authorization swear that its thrust will be for peace and not for war. Before President Johnson announced that the Air Force was authorized to develop the $1.5 billion laboratory in outer space the proposal had been surveyed from every angle by the space council of which Vice President Hubert Humphrey is chairman.

Piecing together what has been said so far about MOL and with a bit of conjecture the picture that emerges is one of a far-out operation and far out not just in space geography. It is the application of techniques of communication and observation matching the wildest science fiction.

MOL is a step forward — and a giant step — in the capacity to know instantly and to communicate with the same speed what is happening on the earth, in the waters around the earth or in the air above. The first step was the U-2 spy plane which, as the boast went, could photograph ants on the sidewalk from 60,000 feet.

But compared to the second step, the Samos satellite, the U-2 was a comparatively crude instrument. Also under a classified label so that no official can discuss it, Samos has from outer space made detailed photographs of much of the earth's surface and transmitted them back to receiving stations. Thus a vast mosaic of the globe, showing natural and man-made phenomenon, is assembled under a secret label.

MOL carries this a big jump forward, since the instruments the laboratory will contain can do far more than photograph the surface. Radio frequencies, radiation, heat, sound — all are believed to be within the scope of the laboratory. Moreover, men working in their shirt sleeves — not in space suits — will be using instruments hitherto undreamed of.

Both the President and defense officials stress that MOL will not in any way violate the United Nations resolution sponsored by the United States to keep weapons of destruction out of space.

But the disturbing question around the world, despite these disclaimers, is whether MOL will not now touch off a military race with the Soviets in space. The Defense Department briefer was asked if the assessment had been made on how the Russians might react to a manned military laboratory overflying the Soviet Union. He replied that he assumed they do not object, since they overfly the United States.

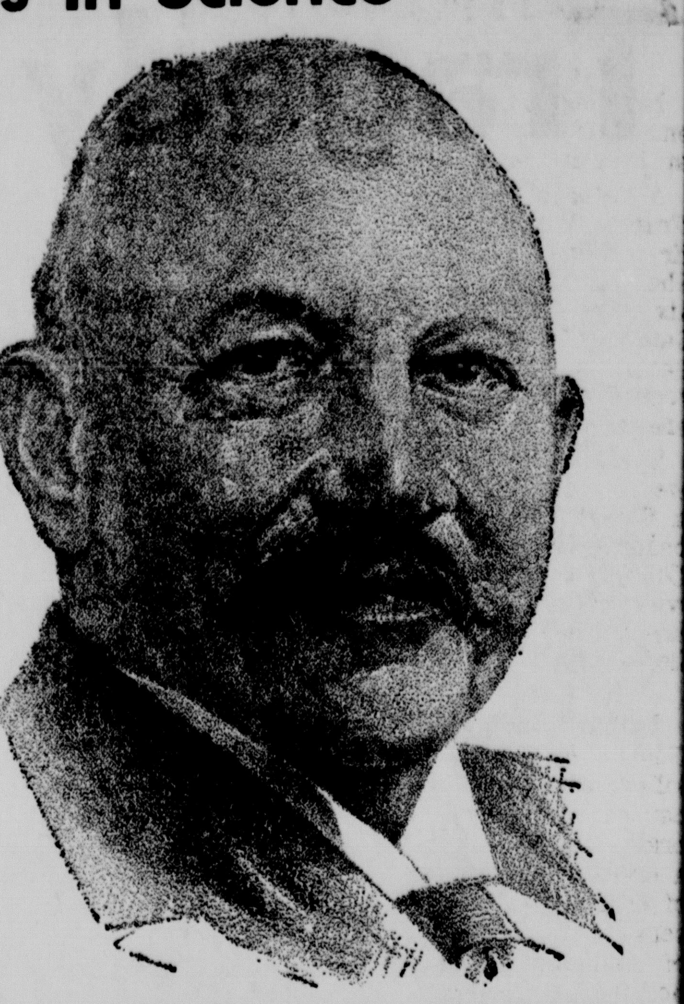
Profiles In Science



Cold is a different thing to different people. To certain scientists zero degrees Fahrenheit could seem "positively torrid." Minus 150 deg. F. might be "cool," perhaps, to these "cryogenic" engineers, who are concerned chiefly with materials at the coldest of all possible temperatures — absolute zero, minus 460 deg. F.

Cryogenic engineers have so far not been able to get anything that cold. The coldest temperature they have achieved is minus 459.7 deg. F.

Cryogenics is a word from the Greek "kryos," meaning frost. It is today one of the most promising fields of scientific investigation, mostly because at extremely low temperatures the molecular vibration in metals and other materials slows down and practically stops. At such low temperatures, called cryogenic temperatures, electrical current does not meet the resistance it does at normal temperatures.

When electricity flows, the electrons are moving from one place to another along a piece of wire, metal or through a liquid. The less resistance the conductor offers, the easier the flow of current. It has long been known that supercold metal wires conduct better than warm, hot or even cool ones. But superconductivity does not occur until the metals are cooled to cryogenic temperatures near absolute zero, when their resistance to electricity disappears. Once a current is started through such a supercooled conductor, it can continue almost forever.

Superconductivity is not new. It was discovered a half-century ago by a Dutch physicist, Heike Kamerlingh Onnes (1853-1926), who was a professor at the University of Leyden. He was awarded a Nobel Prize in 1913.

In 1911, while Onnes was studying mercury at cold temperatures, he found that its electrical conductivity increased gradually as he slowly reduced the temperature. Then, as the mercury neared absolute zero, the resistance disappeared altogether.

He made a loop of mercury wire and started a current flowing in it. If the wire had kept any of its resistance, the current would have died almost immediately. But Onnes found it kept flowing in the loop as long as he kept it at cryogenic temperatures.

Superconductivity will revolutionize modern life as it will affect almost everything eventually that involves electrical power. There is even a new field of study called "cryobiology," the relation of life to cold. Metabolism is stopped completely at cryogenic temperatures, and some feel that one day it may be possible to place living men in states of suspended animation, ship them to another planet and revive them as healthy (and as young) as ever. That is just an idea.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Learning Versatility In Studies

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

There are many good approaches to study, but some that work in one situation will not work in another. For example, learning definitions in exact words brings success in studying geometry, logic or law. But to always learn definitions by rote overtaxes the memory and makes recall difficult, particularly in biology and physiology. Here, definitions in the student's own words, associated with mental pictures, are more effective.

This same dependence on visualizing is fatal in a subject like algebra where a slight difference in symbols completely changes the meaning. Math problems must be thought out in words.

The neglect of details when first reading an assignment makes possible a better grasp of the general ideas. Yet a student who is satisfied with general meanings only runs into grief when studying mathematics and science. While the successful geometry student learns to hold many factors in mind and brings them to bear simultaneously on the problem, the successful student of arithmetic and algebra must learn the use of pencil and paper in the solution of problems.

Pencil and paper are also useful in the organization of themes and in formulating the answer to essay-type questions.

The law student underlines and reads on, to return later for exact memorization where necessary.

For most students, underlining the text and taking extensive class notes consistently postpone learning. Study time and class time are wasted and the inevitable cram session produces little permanent learning.

The efficient reader studies new words as he encounters them. Only through pronouncing them can he establish the ability to use them easily. Yet pronouncing words while reading, if allowed to become a habit, slows the reader to about 200 words a minute. The very operation of reading takes enough attention to distract the student from grasping the meaning. Three readings, each of a different type, may be demanded for best results. First, a study of new words; second, a reading for meaning; and, third, a more rapid reading after the mind has been freed to study the ideas presented without the actual mechanics of reading the words.

BOB CONSIDINE

No Time For Gloating In Space Race

NEW YORK—It's still a horse-race, this contest with Russia to git there fustest with the mostest.

Here's how it stands now:

We hold the record for the longest manned space flight —190 hours and 56 minutes (Cooper and Conrad) compared to their best of 119 hours and six minutes (Lt. Col. Valery Bykovsky). Our people have been in orbit for a total of 639 hours and 48 minutes; their people 507 hours and 16 minutes. We've had nine manned spacecraft put in orbit, against their eight. Our Geminis can maneuver a bit; Russia's Voskhods apparently cannot.

Gordon Cooper is the first spaceman to make a second orbital flight, is far out in front of the nearest Russian with his total time in space of 225 hours 15 minutes. Ed White stayed outside his spacecraft 12 minutes longer than Lt. Col. Leonov, the pioneer "walker."

The Russians, on the other hand, have put three men up in the same capsule. One of these, a scientist, went up in an ordinary business suit — the "shirtsleeve environment" we will not have until the Air Force's Manned Orbiting Laboratory is orbited in 1967 or 1968. They also have had two spacecraft aloft simultaneously and within four miles of a link-up. Their boosters are two or three times more powerful than the Titan II. Their capsules are built to make soft landings, via last-minute retro-rockets, on firm ground.

Obviously, there is little cause for resting on the oars now being pulled in the National Space Agency.

Why must astronauts come down in the water (there were sharks cruising near the Cooper-Conrad capsule last Sunday) while the cosmonauts alight on terra firma?

That question is frequently asked of space officials. The official answer is that it is more convenient and safer to do it our way. The launching pad (and finish line) at Cape Kennedy is right near the ocean, there's a necklace of friendly islands not too far out in the water, the capsules are seaworthy, we've got plenty of ships and search planes, and how would you like to have them tumbling down into Main Street or Times Square?

Three Die On State Roads; 2 Omahans Killed In Dakota

From Press Reports

Nebraska's Labor Day weekıd traffic fatality toll stood three Sunday.

A Valparaiso woman, Mrs. rancis Woita, 33, was the ·st holiday accident victim. ıe was fatally injured and ıx other persons were hurt aturday in a collision at a aunders County road inter·ection nine miles north and ıe mile east of Valparaiso.

Sunday afternoon, 10½ miles ·est of Hastings on U.S. 6, Wheat Ridge, Colo., youth ·ading for classes at Doane ollege in Crete was killed vhen his car and another colıded. The youth was identıed as Byron Wilcurt, 18.

Hits Railing

Sunday evening, James R. olden, 20, of Herman, was illed when the southbound ar he was driving struck a ·idge railing and nosed into creek about one mile north Blair on U.S. 73. A pas·enger, Frank Briggs, 19, also Herman, was treated at a ospital and released.

Near Beresford, S D, two ebraskans and a South akotan were killed in a twoar head-on collision in the orthbound lane of Interstate 29 Saturday. The dead were Jack L Thompson, 31, and Eugene S. Schwalm, 30, both of Omaha, and Ronald Thompson, 22, of Beresford. The two Thompsons were not related.

In the crash west of Hastings, the Wilcurt vehicle was in collision with a car containing Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cohan of Omaha. Cohan, 19, and his wife, Michele, 17, were married Saturday in Omaha and were on their honeymoon. They were listed in fair condition at a Hastings hospital.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol said it appeared Wilcurt's eastbound car went off the highway, came back into his own lane and then veered into the path of the westbound Cohan car.

The engine of the Wilcurt car was thrown some 200 feet by the impact.

Dies In Wahoo

The Valparaiso woman, Mrs. Woita, died in a Wahoo hospital about 1½ hours after the crash.

Highway Patrolman Duane A Hamann said the cars involved were driven by John Rejda of Valparaiso and Thomas Novacek, 17, also of Valparaiso.

Rejda and his wife were hospitalized in Lincoln and were reported in fair condition Sunday.

Mrs. Woita's husband, Leonard, 37, was in serious condition at a Wahoo hospital.

Cuts, Fractures

Hamann said Novacek and two companions, 16-year-old Frank Buresh and 20-year-old Thomas Hibbard, both of Valparaiso, were hospitalized in Wahoo with cuts, abrasions and fractures.

In the South Dakota accident, Jack Thompson's wife, Eloise, 25, was hurt but her injuries were not believed serious, but another passenger in the station wagon, Dorothy Aquilera of Omaha, was hospitalized in critical condition.

Station Wagon

Officers said the station wagon in which the Omahans were riding was just starting around a mail truck when the collision occurred.

Authorities said the South Dakota car w~s in the wrong lane of the superhighway.

48 Missing After Rains Drench Deep Zion National Park Narrows

Zion National Park, Utah — Some 48 persons were nissing Sunday after an un·redicted rainstorm drenched ıe area and sent the Virgin iver rampaging through ıon Narrows.

This is the deep, narrow orge in the northeast tip of e park where a flood killed ve persons early in Septemer 1961

Chief Ranger Del Arm·rong said the rains struck bout 5 a.m. causing a torrent elieved heavier than the one ur years ago. The storm was ıot expected until shortly beore it hit, Weather Bureau fficials said.

Several groups, including a -member party led by Iron ounty Sheriff Otto Fife, a eteran of 28 treks through the gorge, were known to be in the area at the time.

Fife's party entered the narrows Friday afternoon and was due out at noon Sunday. There was no word from them. The party reportedly included some scientists, doctors, lawyers and three FBI agents. They were all Fife's friends and associates, vacationing with him.

13 Persons

Armstrong said three other parties with a total of 13 persons were also in the area.

He said one party of 25 persons was still unconfirmed. He said the 25, believed to be from Salt Lake City, were urged not to enter the area. It is not known whether they did.

Armstrong said the park entrance to the gorge was closed at the time, but all parties entered from the upstream end which is located outside the park's boundary.

He said there could be still others who had gone in.

Hope For Everyone

Armstrong said he had hope for everyone who had entered, although he noted that the 12 to 20 mile trek was 90% wading.

But he said the storm struck at a time when all should have been sleeping on high ground. He said it's a three hour trip out and he didn't expect to get any additional high water for awhile.

Armstrong said that the other 1,200 campers in the park were safe. He said that the gorge is located in a wilderness area of the park.

Betsy's 125 M.P.H. Winds Threaten Florida, Bahamas

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Big and owerful hurricane Betsy urned southward Sunday ·ght and the Weather Burau ordered all precautions aken immediately for protion of life and property ıroughout the northern Baama Islands.

The gigantic storm, packing ·inds up to 125 miles per our, threatening Florida's ast coast and small craft arnings were flying from ape Kennedy to the Florida eys.

Gale and hurricane force ·inds were expected to it the Bahamas Monday rom Grand Bahama Island, 5 miles due east of Palm each, Fla., to San Salvador ·nd including Nassua and An·ros Island

'Ten Feet'

"This hurricane has a tide producing potential of ten feet r a little higher when the enter moves through the Baamas Monday," said foreaster Raymond Kraft of he Miami Weather Bureau.

"All precautions should be taken immediately through the northern Bahamas for the protection of life and property against hurricane force winds and high tides."

The storm was expected to continue moving southward for 6 to 12 hours with a turn toward the west in 12 to 24 hours.

Little Change

Little change in size of intensity was expected with gales reaching out 300 miles north and 150 miles south of the storm's center.

Small craft through the Bahamas, along the entire Florida east coast and northward to Sandy Hook, N.J., were advised to remain in port and those in the northern Bahamas were told to seek safe harbor.

All interests in the Bahamas and Florida, especially the southeast coast, were told to keep in close touch with future advisories and bulletins.

Sunday afternoon, 10½ miles west of Hastings on U.S. 6, a Wheat Ridge, Colo., youth heading for classes at Doane College in Crete was killed when his car and another collided. The youth was identified as Byron Wilcurt, 18.

Hits Railing

Sunday evening, James R. Golden, 20, of Herman, was killed when the southbound car he was driving struck a bridge railing and nosed into a creek about one mile north of Blair on U.S. 73. A passenger, Frank Briggs, 19, also of Herman, was treated at a hospital and released.

Near Beresford, S.D., two Nebraskans and a South Dakotan were killed in a two-car head-on collision in the northbound lane of Interstate 29 Saturday. The dead were Jack L. Thompson, 31, and Eugene S. Schwalm, 30, both of Omaha, and Ronald Thompson, 22, of Beresford. The two Thompsons were not related.

In the crash west of Hastings, the Wilcurt vehicle was in collision with a car containing Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cohan of Omaha. Cohan, 19, and his wife, Michele, 17, were married Saturday in Omaha and were on their honeymoon. They were listed in fair condition at a Hastings hospital.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol said it appeared Wilcurt's eastbound car went off the highway, came back into his own lane and then veered into the path of the westbound Cohan car.

The engine of the Wilcurt car was thrown some 200 feet by the impact.

Dies In Wahoo

The Valparaiso woman, Mrs. Woita, died in a Wahoo hospital about 1½ hours after the crash.

Highway Patrolman Duane A. Hamann said the cars involved were driven by John Rejda of Valparaiso and Thomas Novacek, 17, also of Valparaiso.

Rejda and his wife were hospitalized in Lincoln and were reported in fair condition Sunday.

Mrs. Woita's husband, Leonard, 37, was in serious condition at a Wahoo hospital.

Cuts, Fractures

Hamann said Novacek and two companions, 16-year-old Frank Buresh and 20-year-old Thomas Hibbard, both of Valparaiso, were hospitalized in Wahoo with cuts, abrasions and fractures.

In the South Dakota accident, Jack Thompson's wife, Eloise, 25, was hurt but her injuries were not believed serious, but another passenger in the station wagon, Dorothy Aquilera of Omaha, was hospitalized in critical condition.

Station Wagon

Officers said the station wagon in which the Omahans were riding was just starting around a mail truck when the collision occurred.

Authorities said the South Dakota car w^s in the wrong lane of the superhighway.

48 Missing After Rains Drench Deep Zion National Park Narrows

Zion National Park, Utah (AP) — Some 48 persons were missing Sunday after an unpredicted rainstorm drenched the area and sent the Virgin River rampaging through Zion Narrows.

This is the deep, narrow gorge in the northeast tip of the park where a flood killed five persons early in September 1961.

Chief Ranger Del Armstrong said the rains struck about 5 a.m. causing a torrent believed heavier than the one four years ago. The storm was not expected until shortly before it hit, Weather Bureau officials said.

Several groups, including a 35-member party led by Iron County Sheriff Otto Fife, a veteran of 28 treks through the gorge, were known to be in the area at the time.

Fife's party entered the narrows Friday afternoon and was due out at noon Sunday. There was no word from them. The party reportedly included some scientists, doctors, lawyers and three FBI agents. They were all Fife's friends and associates, vacationing with him.

13 Persons

Armstrong said three other parties with a total of 13 persons were also in the area.

He said one party of 25 persons was still unconfirmed. He said the 25, believed to be from Salt Lake City, were urged not to enter the area. It is not known whether they did.

Armstrong said the park entrance to the gorge was closed at the time, but all parties entered from the upstream end which is located outside the park's boundary.

He said there could be still others who had gone in.

Hope For Everyone

Armstrong said he had hope for everyone who had entered, although he noted that the 12 to 20 mile trek was 90% wading.

But he said the storm struck at a time when all should have been sleeping on high ground. He said it's a three hour trip out and he didn't expect to get any additional high water for awhile.

Armstrong said that the other 1,200 campers in the park were safe. He said that the gorge is located in a wilderness area of the park.

Betsy's 125 M.P.H. Winds Threaten Florida, Bahamas

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Big and powerful hurricane Betsy turned southward Sunday night and the Weather Bureau ordered all precautions taken immediately for protection of life and property throughout the northern Bahama Islands.

The gigantic storm, packing winds up to 125 miles per hour, threatening Florida's east coast and small craft warnings were flying from Cape Kennedy to the Florida Keys.

Gale and hurricane force winds were expected to hit the Bahamas Monday from Grand Bahama Island, 65 miles due east of Palm Beach, Fla., to San Salvador and including Nassua and Andros Island.

'Ten Feet'

"This hurricane has a tide producing potential of ten feet or a little higher when the center moves through the Bahamas Monday," said forecaster Raymond Kraft of the Miami Weather Bureau.

"All precautions should be taken immediately through the northern Bahamas for the protection of life and property against hurricane force winds and high tides."

The storm was expected to continue moving southward for 6 to 12 hours with a turn toward the west in 12 to 24 hours.

Little Change

Little change in size of intensity was expected with gales reaching out 300 miles north and 150 miles south of the storm's center.

Small craft through the Bahamas, along the entire Florida east coast and northward to Sandy Hook, N.J., were advised to remain in port and those in the northern Bahamas were told to seek safe harbor.

All interests in the Bahamas and Florida, especially the southeast coast, were told to keep in close touch with future advisories and bulletins.

THEIR weddings were weekend events

The wedding of Miss Judith Gewecke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gewecke of Strang, and Vaughn P. Domeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern A. Domeier, Sutton, took place Sunday evening, Sept. 5. The 7:30 service was solemnized at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Ohiowa.

Long-skirted frocks of gold-toned peau de soie were worn by the attendants, who were Mrs. Gary Kimbrough of Seward, as the matron of honor; Miss Diane Kimbrough, Geneva, the maid of honor; and the bridesmatron, Mrs. Robert French, Jr., of Hastings. They carried arrangements of chrysanthemums and pompons in shades of yellow and bronze.

Serving Mr. Domeier as best man was Ronald Kennedy of Ralston, and seating the guests were Ronald Fowler, Stapleton; Rodney Domeier, Sutton; Michael Johnson, Geneva; and Daniel Gewecke, Strang.

The bride's gown of handclipped Chantilly lace over traditional white satin was designed in the princess mode. Natural scallops of the lace edged the cameo neckline of the bodice, which was completed by brief sleeves, and below the elongated waist, the skirt was shirred into fullness and continued into an aisle-wide train. A cluster of organza roses dotted with pearls held her bouffant veil of illusion, and white roses and feathered carnations formed her cascade bouquet.

Mr. Domeier, a student at the University of Nebraska, and his bride will make their home at 4145 Randolph.

The marriage of Miss Helen Marsh, daughter of C. C. Marsh of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and the late Mrs. Marsh, to Harold Irvin Spencer of Lincoln, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey R. Spencer of Ravenna, took place on Saturday morning, Sept. 4, at the Sheridan Baptist Church. The Rev. Gilbert Reiland solemnized the 10 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. John Pierce, as the matron of honor and only attendant, appeared in a frock of poudre bleu brocade, and completed her ensemble with a brief circular veil held to the head with a circlet of ribbon.

John Pierce served as best man.

The bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace for her wedding. The long-sleeved fitted bodice was designed with a bateau neckline contoured with pearls and paillettes, and extended into a chapel train. A pearl crown held in place her tiered veil of illusion and she carried pink sweetheart roses on a white prayer book.

Club Opens Year

A new season will begin for the members of the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln, next Wednesday when the organization will meet at the Hotel Cornhusker.

The 7 o'clock general club meeting will be preceded by a dinner for the members of the board. Presiding will be Mrs. R. J. DeVice, club president.

ABBY you failed 'taste' test

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The husband of a friend of mine suddenly started wearing a wedding ring, after twelve years of marriage. Naturally I commented on it. My friend seemed very proud of the fact that her husband was wearing it, and asked me why I didn't buy MY husband one. I told her that most cultured men did not wear wedding rings. (My husband is an executive, hers is not.) I pointed out that "J.F.K." never wore one and the Kennedys reeked with culture. I said that once in a while you will see a cultured man wearing a wedding ring, but for the most part, only middle-class laborers wear them. We got into quite a hot discussion over it. Can you settle this?

EXECUTIVE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I doubt that statistics are available on how many "cultured" men wear wedding rings. But what constitutes "culture"? Social position? Education? Money? Taste? If it's the latter, you don't qualify. Your remarks were unkind and uncalled for.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended a very nice buffet supper given in honor of an out-of-town guest. There were 55 or 60 other guests present. It was the kind of party where everyone milled around. The guest of honor always seemed to be tied up talking to someone and, since I am not the pushy type who I never got around to meeting him. Whose fault was this?

NAMELESS IN WAYZATA

DEAR NAMELESS: Yours. It is not considered "pushy" for a guest to introduce himself at such a party. It's SOP.

The bidding:

Opening lead — four of hearts.

The first world championship was played in Bermuda in 1950. Participating in the three-cornered event were a United States team, a British team, and a combination Swedish-Icelandic team. The Americans defeated both adversaries and won the championship.

The U.S. gained 1,270 points in this deal from its match against the Swedish-Icelandic team.

At the first table, the American North-South pair (Silodor and Crawford) arrived at three notrump. West led a heart and Crawford took the king with the ace and returned a low diamond. When West showed out, Crawford made the fine play of the ten from dummy. East took it with the jack and returned a heart.

West won with the queen and could have defeated the contract by playing three rounds of clubs. Instead, he cashed the king of clubs and continued with a heart. Having seen his partner win the first diamond lead with the jack, West thought that East also had the king.

This erroneous impression cost West the contract. Crawford won the heart return and wasted no time cashing nine tricks for a score of 600 points.

At the second table, the Swedish South opened the bidding with a notrump. Rapee (playing with Stayman) made a somewhat dangeorus overcall of two hearts—which North, under some strain, doubled.

North led the six of clubs. Rapee won the ten with the king and played a heart to the king, losing to the ace. South returned a diamond which declarer ruffed.

After cashing the queen of hearts, Rapee led a club to the queen and then played another club, finessing the nine. As a result, he made two hearts doubled for a score of 670 points.

So the American team made a game with the North-South cards, and also a game with the East-West cards. That's how championships are won!

NEWS of the suburban areas

This morning the social scene seems to be shifting from the vacation topic to the moving world. A new mail box or a changed address on an older model seems to be the vogue at the moment.

WEDGEWOOD

In the vacation news this morning are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mills, Sr. of 621 Lakewood Dr. They have just returned from a trip that included eastern and western travel. The early stages of traveling took the Mills to the east coast and to Boston, Mass. in particular. During their five-day stay, they followed the Freedom Trail, ate at the Union Oyster House, and enjoyed the Cape Cod atmosphere. While on the coast, the Mills stopped for one night on the Hudson River — and saw West Point Military Academy. They then followed a route that took them through Pennsylvania on their way back to Lincoln.

Their western travel included a trip to Sheridan, Wyo. One highlight of the Wyoming excursion was a trip through the Big Horn Mountains. In Montana, the Mills stopped to review Custer's Last Stand and to do some fishing.

Moving to the Wedgewood Manor area from North Platte are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas. The Thomas family is making its new home at 1100 Driftwood Dr. Also new to Wedgewood are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wesner. Formerly of 5230 Hartley, the Wesners now are residing at 8111 Sandalwood.

This morning we report a family moving from Wedgewood to Bronxville, N.Y. They are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reichstadt, formerly of 150 Lakewood.

Also leaving Wedgewood are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Benson. The Bensons resided at 137 Wedgewood but are making their new home in Lincoln at 7924 E. Avon.

Another move — and to a new Lincoln address in Wedgewood is being made by Mr. and Mrs. John Matulis, who used to live at 3045 Center but are now living at 1010 Driftwood.

Sandalwood Drive has some new neighbors. They are Mr. and Mrs. George Zemunski, formerly of Omaha. Their new mailing address is 7831 Sandalwood.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Buchholz have some traveling children. Chip and Margaret recently have returned from a three week trip to Minnesota, where they visited their grandparents.

MEADOW LANE

We hear that Capt. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell have moved from their home at 1440 Carlos Dr. to 2211 No. Mill in Lewisville, Tex.

Also leaving Meadow Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie who are former residents of 941 W. Avon and who now are making their home in Des Moines, Iowa.

Leaving Meadow Lane for Raymond are Mr. and Mrs. Tabour Tucker, formerly of 1121 Carlos.

EASTBOROUGH

This morning we are informed that Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzl have left their 642 Eastborough address for 912 No. 67.

Changing Eastborough addresses are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zook. Formerly of 620 Eastborough, they have moved to 621 Eastborough.

EARLY September Wedding

The chancel of Southview Christian Church was appointed with bouquets of gold and copper-toned blossoms for the Sunday, Sept. 5, wedding of Miss Sharon Elaine McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney R. McLaughlin, and Dale Arnold Pearson, son of Mrs. A. N. Pearson of Enid, Okla. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. N. Dwain Acker, and Mrs. Louis Trzcinski, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Miss Julee Clark.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks of antique gold satin were Mrs. Bill Hill of Enid, Okla., the matron of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Joy Champie, Tampa, Fla.; and Miss Pam Sprague, who carried gold Fuji chrysanthemums frilled with copper-toned net.

Bill Hill of Enid, served Mr. Pearson as best man, and seating the guests were Roger Springsted of Enid; Richard Songer, Wichita, Kan.; and Barney McLaughlin.

White silk organza over taffeta was chosen for the bride's period gown. A wide insertion of Alencon lace highlighted the portrait neckline of the bodice, and the skirt was pleated into fullness and continued into a chapel train beneath a back bow of the organza. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held by a pearl crown, and she carried a lace and satin-covered Bible clustered with white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will reside in Enid, Okla., where both are students at Phillips University.

BRIDE at candlelight service

Lighted white candles and an arrangement of white chrysanthemums formed the background in First-Plymouth Church, Sunday, Sept. 5, for the marriage of Miss Judith Ann Sharp, daughter of Mrs. Walter W. Sharp of Omaha, and the late Mr. Sharp, to Ronald L. Grapes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan C. Grapes of Big Springs. The ceremony was solemnized at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Lawrence Stanton.

As her sister's matron of honor and only attendant, Mrs. C. L. Croft of Omaha, wore a frock of silk linen in shades of green.

Harold R. Burton served Mr. Grapes as best man, and seating the guests were Bill Drost, Kearney, and Ralph Langemeier.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, C. L. Croft of Omaha, the bride appeared in a gown of white silk organza smoothed over taffeta. Petite bows trimmed the elbow sleeves of the fitted bodice, which was designed with a bateau neckline, and the skirt of controlled fullness continued into a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was held in place by a cluster of fabric roses dotted with pearls, and she carried a white prayer book ornamented with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and daisies.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Grapes are graduates of the University of Nebraska. The bride is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and a former member of The Star reportorial staff. Mr. Grapes's fraternity is Alpha Gamma Rho. They will live at 830 No. 55th.

Bridal Attendants Announced

Miss Kathleen Anne Aldrup this morning is revealing plans for her approaching marriage to George Arthur Salstrand, III.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Aldrup, has named her cousin, Miss Johnette Schultz of Omaha, as her maid of honor, and her sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Aldrup, will be her junior bridesmaid for the 9 o'clock morning ceremony, which will be solemnized Saturday, Sept. 18, at the Cathedral of the Risen Christ.

The bridesmaids will include her fiance's sister, Miss Stephanie Salstrand, Miss Donna Tegtmeyer, Miss Cynthia Carr and Miss Mary Kay Arthaud.

Robert Cook will serve Mr. Salstrand as best man, and the ushers will be the bride-elect's cousin, Rickey Schultz of Omaha; her brother, Tim Aldrup, Dennis Scheidt and Cliff Critchfield.

In courtesy to her son and his fiancee, Mrs. George A. Salstrand, Jr., will entertain members of the family at dinner at her home on Thursday evening, Sept. 16. The guest list will include members of the bridal party, and the dinner will follow the wedding rehearsal at the cathedral.

THEY CHOSE Sunday evening ceremonies

For the marriage of Miss Lynda Lee Rohrs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Rohrs of Princeton, to Harold J. Parde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Heye William Parde of Cortland, Sunday evening, Sept. 5. pedestal bouquets of pink blossoms decorated the chancel of the United Congregational Church at Hallam. The lines of the candlelight service were read by the Rev. Herbert Gilbert.

Mrs. Donald M. Gentry of Omaha, the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Remmenga, Sterling, and Miss Penny Kirk, Lincoln, wore frocks of delustered satin in shades of pastel pink and rose.

Serving as best man was LaVern Hansel of Lincoln, and the ushers were Bruce Steiner, Adams; Raymond Parde and Albert Ideus, Cortland; and Lawrence Te Se Princeton.

Appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace trimmed the bride's gown of white peau de soie. The lace patterned the front of the long-sleeved bodice, and the bell skirt was completed by a panel train of the silk bordered with lace. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a pillbox cap of silk and jeweled lace, and she carried a crescent of deep pink roses.

Mr. Parde is a graduate of the Milford Technical School, and his bride, a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University where she is a member of Delta Zeta, is completing her studies at the University of Nebraska. They will make their home at 1431 C.

Candlelight and an arrangement of white roses formed the background for the wedding of Miss Carol Anne Humphreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Humphreys, and Richard Lyle Dwinell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dwinell of Largo, Fla., which took place on Sunday evening, Sept. 5, at the Wesley Foundation Chapel on the University of Nebraska campus.

The attendants, Miss Linda White, the maid of honor; and bridesmaids Miss Barbara Husbands and Miss Linda Batt, were frocked alike and with their floor-length costumes of horizon blue georgette over taffeta.

Ronald Nelson of Aurora served as best man, and seating the guests were Alex Tuyahov of Denver, Colo., and Richard Aksamit.

The bride chose a gown of delustered satin in antique white for her wedding. Designed in the Empire mode and with a sabrina neckline, the long-sleeved bodice was patterned with an applique of re-embroidered Alencon lace above the controlled skirt which was completed with a Watteau train of cotillion length. An inverted crown of pearls held to the head of her illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white roses on a white Bible.

Mr. Dwinell and his bride will be at home at 3340 G St., after Sept. 12.

The bride attended Colorado State College at Greeley, and now is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Dwinell attended St. Petersburg Junior College at St. Petersburg, Fla., before coming to the University of Nebraska where he is a senior.

NEWS of the suburban areas

This morning the social scene seems to be shifting from the vacation topic to the moving world. A new mail box or a changed address on an older model seems to be the vogue at the moment.

WEDGEWOOD

In the vacation news this morning are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mills, Sr. of 621 Lakewood Dr. They have just returned from a trip that included eastern and western travel. The early stages of traveling took the Mills to the east coast and to Boston, Mass. in particular. During their five-day stay, they followed the Freedom Trail, ate at the Union Oyster House, and enjoyed the Cape Cod atmosphere. While on the coast, the Mills stopped for one night on the Hudson River — and saw West Point Military Academy. They then followed a route that took them through Pennsylvania on their way back to Lincoln.

Their western travel included a trip to Sheridan, Wyo. One highlight of the Wyoming excursion was a trip through the Big Horn Mountains. In Montana, the Mills stopped to review Custer's Last Stand and to do some fishing.

Moving to the Wedgewood Manor area from North Platte are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas. The Thomas family is making its new home at 1100 Driftwood Dr. Also new to Wedgewood are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wesner. Formerly of 5230 Hartley, the Wesners now are residing at 8111 Sandalwood.

This morning we report a family moving from Wedgewood to Bronxville, N.Y. They are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reichstadt, formerly of 150 Lakewood.

Also leaving Wedgewood are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Benson. The Bensons resided at 137 Wedgewood but are making their new home in Lincoln at 7924 E. Avon.

Another move — and to a new Lincoln address in Wedgewood is being made by Mr. and Mrs. John Matulis, who used to live at 3045 Center but are now living at 1010 Driftwood.

Sandalwood Drive has some new neighbors. They are Mr. and Mrs. George Zemunski, formerly of Omaha. Their new mailing address is 7831 Sandalwood.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Buchholz have some traveling children. Chip and Margaret recently have returned from a three week trip to Minnesota, where they visited their grandparents.

MEADOW LANE

We hear that Capt. and Mrs. Charles Mitchell have moved from their home at 1440 Carlos Dr. to 2211 No. Mill in Lewisville, Tex.

Also leaving Meadow Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie who are former residents of 941 W. Avon and who now are making their home in Des Moines, Iowa.

Leaving Meadow Lane for Raymond are Mr. and Mrs. Tabour Tucker, formerly of 1121 Carlos.

EASTBOROUGH

This morning we are informed that Mr. and Mrs. John Wenzl have left their 642 Eastborough address for 912 No. 67.

Changing Eastborough addresses are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Zook. Formerly of 620 Eastborough, they have moved to 621 Eastborough.

EARLY September Wedding

The chancel of Southview Christian Church was appointed with bouquets of gold and copper-toned blossoms for the Sunday, Sept. 5, wedding of Miss Sharon Elaine McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney R. McLaughlin, and Dale Arnold Pearson, son of Mrs. A. N. Pearson of Enid, Okla. The 4 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. N. Dwain Acker, and Mrs. Louis Trzcinski, organist, played the wedding music. The vocal soloist was Miss Julee Clark.

Wearing bell-skirted frocks of antique gold satin were Mrs. Bill Hill of Enid, Okla., the matron of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Joy Champie, Tampa, Fla.; and Miss Pam Sprague, who carried gold Fuji chrysanthemums frilled with copper-toned net.

Bill Hill of Enid, served Mr. Pearson as best man, and seating the guests were Roger Springsted of Enid; Richard Songer, Wichita, Kan.; and Barney McLaughlin.

Nixon Hits Viet Nam Negotiation

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said Sunday he opposes present efforts to negotiate with the Communists on Viet Nam and termed overtures toward this end "loose talk."

At a news conference, the former U.S. vice president called for a stepup in U.S. military activity in North and South Viet Nam but declined to say whether he felt this should include the bombing of industrial centers in the north.

Nixon took a swipe at some Democrats in the Johnson administration he said were urging a soft line by calling for "major concessions" to the Communists in order to get peace. He named Sen. J. W. Fullbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He expressed belief the Vietnamese war would be a campaign issue in the 1966 and 1968 elections if President Johnsons listens to some Democrats. He added this would not happen if the chief executive continued to follow a "strong line."

"As a Republican, I can say this is not Mr. Johnson's war and not a Democratic war. It is America's war," Nixon said. "It is a war being fought to prevent World War III."

Nixon met with newsmen before flying to Bangkok after a four-day visit to South Viet Nam "for a first-hand appraisal of the war."

Nixon said the war had taken a decided turn for the better since he last visited the country in March 1964 but cautioned against being "overly optimistic." He cited what he called an improvement in the morale of the South Vietnamese, the presence of U.S. ground forces and the failure of the Viet Cong to make good its promises to the people.

On the subject of negotiations, Nixon said he did not include President Johnson among those making incessant peace offers to the Communists.

Pakistan Men Near Key Town

Rawalpindi, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan claimed its ground forces pushed to within 15 miles of Kashmir's winter capital of Jammu Sunday and India accused Pakistan of dangerously spreading the war beyond Kashmir with a jet raid on Punjab State.

The Indian defense ministry said a Pakistani jet attacked Indian air force ground positions 25 miles inside Punjab near Amritsar, holiest of holy places for India's Sikh warriors. The jet caused no damage and was driven off, a spokesman said.

The raid was the first reported strike outside Kashmir in the current India-Pakistan conflict and was regarded as one of the most grave developments in recent days.

Captured Stronghold

The New Delhi charge came as Pakistan claimed its forces had captured an Indian stronghold at Jaurian in southwest Kashmir and were threatening a vital Indian supply route in their drive on Jammu, a city of more than 60,000.

Pakistan's army commander, Gen. Mahommed Musa, urged on his advancing troops in a message which said: "You have got your teeth into him (the enemy). Bite deeper and deeper until he is destroyed, and destroy him you will, God willing."

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Lal Baahdur Shastri accused Pakistan of escalating the fighting by forcing "continuous conflict" on India. "This has become intolerable," he declared. "We have to bring this matter to an end."

Although the Pakistanis seemed to be gaining the upper hand in the main battleground in southwest Kashmir, India appeared certain to reject the demand of the U.N. Security Council for an immediate cease-fire.

30 Killed

The rebel Kashmir radio broadcast a report that 30 Indian troops were killed Sunday night in a clash with Kashmiri guerrillas in the Poonch-uri region in Indian Kashmir, 130 miles north of Rawalpindi.

The radio also said Kashmir's underground revolutionary council had rejected the cease-fire appeal because the United Nations had not put the blame for starting the fighting on India's refusal to hold a plebiscite in Kashmir.

In New Delhi, an Indian spokesman acknowledged heavy fighting in the area but said a Pakistani advance had been halted. There was no confirmation there that Jaurian had fallen.

Pakistan Men Near Key Town

Rawalpindi, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan claimed its ground forces pushed to within 15 miles of Kashmir's winter captal of Jammu Sunday and India accused Pakistan of dangerously spreading the war beyond Kashmir with a jet raid on Punjab State.

The Indian defense ministry said a Pakistani jet attacked Indian air force ground positions 25 miles inside Punjab near Amritsar, holiest of holy places for India's Sikh warriors. The jet caused no damage and was driven off, a spokesman said.

The raid was the first reported strike outside Kashmir in the current India-Pakistan conflict and was regarded as one of the most grave developments in recent days.

Captured Stronghold

The New Delhi charge came as Pakistan claimed its forces had captured an Indian stronghold at Jaurian in southwest Kashmir and were threatening a vital Indian supply route in their drive on Jammu, a city of more than 60,000.

Pakistan's army commander, Gen. Mahommed Musa, urged on his advancing troops in a message which said: "You have got your teeth into him (the enemy). Bite deeper and deeper until he is destroyed, and destroy him you will, God willing."

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Lal Baahdur Shastri accused Pakistan of escalating the fighting by forcing "continuous conflict" on India. "This has become intolerable," he declared. "We have to bring this matter to an end."

Although the Pakistanis seemed to be gaining the upper hand in the main battleground in southwest Kashmir, India appeared certain to reject the demand of the U.N. Security Council for an immediate cease-fire.

30 Killed

The rebel Kashmir radio broadcast a report that 30 Indian troops were killed Sunday night in a clash with Kashmiri guerrillas in the Poonch-uri region in Indian Kashmir, 130 miles north of Rawalpindi.

The radio also said Kashmir's underground revolutionary council had rejected the cease-fire appeal because the United Nations had not put the blame for starting the fighting on India's refusal to hold a plebiscite in Kashmir.

In New Delhi, an Indian spokesman acknowledged heavy fighting in the area but said a Pakistani advance had been halted. There was no confirmation there that Jaurian had fallen.

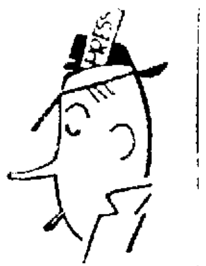
The best thing about Labor Day is you don't have to labor at all Instead you can get out on a nice, fast highway. Get yourself sideswiped by the oncoming lady who has turned her head momentarily to tell the man riding shotgun "Don't tell me how to drive!"



Hearts and flowers. Hearts and flowers.

When I was breathing tear gas for the dailies, everything was Labor

I came on the journals at the time Labor was asserting itself

Even journalists become Labor — it was that fashionable.

We held meetings. Signed Labor contracts.

At that time, Labor and the cops were hard at it. Tear gas vs bricks.

Labor was often vs. Labor. In jurisdictional disputes.

A Laboring reporter never knew who was going to clobber him.

However, we got time-and-a-half for laboring on Labor Day. And that was something.

When steel workers sit eyeball-to-eyeball with steel boss, they do it in one of Conrad Hilton's better suites.

I haven't smelled tear gas —haven't even heard of it— for years. And labor leaders' suits are not tailored for carrying a cargo hook in the aft pocket.

Tear gas is what nervous coeds buy to carry in fountain pen guns. Bricks are what I tell the kids the wise little pig made his house of.

Labor has surely come a long way And it's a good thing we've got a day to praise it

The parleying is done by trained negotiators — firing injunctions instead of bricks. Public relations replaced tear gas

Somehow during negotiations, they negotiated columnists (who work on Labor Day) out of the time-and-a-half pay.

Labor has gone on to better things. But we are back among the working stiffs. It's enough to make a man pick up a brick, it really is.

This peaceful settlement of Labor and Capital — (Labor's got a lot of Capital, too)—has certainly pulled some of the glamor off our business.

There was a lot of excitement—(and fine photos) — when the picket lines began to chant "Rat fink, rat fink!"

The police closed in The strike-breaking trucks began to roll.

The clatter of thrown rocks. The pop! — and then the foggy cloud of tear gas, drifting before the breeze.

And there we stood, wiping away at our eyes.

Labor will be favorably mentioned this day. Thomas Jefferson spoke of it in his inaugural address

The Clayton Anti-Trust Act, the Constitution of the U.S.S.R., Pope Pius XI, Adolph Hitler and Franklin D. Roosevelt — all spoke highly of Labor.

Nobody spoke badly of Labor. Except Samuel Johnson, the philosopher of London He wasn't speaking of Labor though.

Sam was talking about work. That's something else

HARRIS POLL:

Living Cost Hike Potential Political Dynamite

By LOUIS HARRIS

The cost of living is now emerging as a storm that could upset the relative tranquility of consensus which President Johnson has so carefully wrought in the domestic economy. The nation's housewives are nearly unanimous in their view that the cost of living has risen in the past year — and they do not like the trend.

Harris

They are right, of course, in believing that the cost of living is going up. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that it went up 1.9% between June, 1964, and June, 1965. And the complaints of women about the increase in the cost of specific items reinforces the idea that they know what they are talking about. In those areas in which they handle most of the family's expenditures, their complaints about which items have gone up most almost match in proportion the categories where the increases have been greatest.

The potential political dynamite in the cost of living lies in the fact that, by nearly a 3 to 2 margin, women shoppers believe that increases can be avoided. Since 87% of all women think the cost of living is going up, this provides a margin of dissatisfaction that could spell trouble for political leaders.

Following is a table of items which a cross section of the nation's housewives cited as having gone up most in the past year, compared to the latest government figures. The 87% of the women who believe the cost of living has gone up were asked: "Which items do you feel have gone up most?"

	Housewife Complaints	Consumer Price Index Rise
Meat	46%	+9.9
Vegetables and fruit	30%	+4.7
Cereals and Bakery products	22%	+1.6
Other food	8%	+.2
Clothing	20%	+1.1
Dairy products	7%	...
Utilities (gas, electric)	3%	—.2
Transportation	1%	+1.8
Medicine	1%	+2.4
Rent	1%	+1.8
Personal care	1%	+1.7
Household furnishings	1%	+.2

Two facts are immediately apparent. First, it takes only a slight rise in the cost of an item to cause large numbers of women to single out that product as one in which prices have gone up. Second, while the areas in which they spend most of the family's budget — food and clothing — are the particular target of housewife complaints, transportation, medicine, rents and personal care—which have increased close to the over-all average of 1.9% — have escaped public awareness.

But the views of the women about rises in prices have established some firm opinions which have serious implications. In order to pinpoint where the blame is being leveled, the cross section was asked this question: "What do you feel is the main cause for the rise in the cost of living: farm prices, wage increases, middlemen, government spending, too high profits or what?"

		BY INCOME GROUP:
	Total Housewives	Under $5,000	$5,000 $10,000	Over $10,000
Middlemen	30%	35%	34%	19%
Wage increases	25%	17%	22%	41%
Government spending	22%	22%	18%	31%
Too high profits	7%	5%	8%	7%
Farm prices	4%	4%	4%	2%
Not sure	12%	17%	14%	....

Nationwide, the middlemen —primarily food processors, wholesalers and retailers — are the No. 1 target. But the pattern differs sharply by income groups. Lower-income women tend to worry most about middlemen costs and are least critical of wage increases as inflationary pressures. In contrast, upper-income women place the blame primarily on union demands and secondly on government spending. Obviously, there is a relationship between their views and their husbands' occupations.

A real question which economists pose about an economy such as ours, which is growing at a rate of over 6% a year, is whether consumer price rises are inevitable. The housewives of the nation tend to say no. They were asked: "Do you think that rises in the cost of living are bound to happen or do you feel they can be avoided?"

	Bound To Happen	Can Be Avoided	Not Sure
NATIONWIDE	33%	46%	21%
By size of place
Cities	31%	50%	19%
Suburbs	48%	39%	13%
Towns	20%	59%	21%
Rrual	33%	35%	32%
By income groups
Under $5,000	11%	68%	21%
$5,000-$10,000	40%	40%	20%
Over $10,000	34%	52%	14%

The political impact of the issue could be potent, and it now appears to be looming up as a storm center of major magnitude.

Keaton To Play Noah

Rome (AP)—Buster Keaton has been cast as a deadpan Noah in "The Bible," a modern allegory scheduled to start filming here in November with live actors and animated cartoons. The script portrays Noah as an amiable drunk and the ark as a cash strongbox to tide him through the deluge over a sea of debts in a collapsing economy.

The Los Angeles Dodgers clung to their National League lead Sunday, rallying for three runs in the ninth inning for a 4-2 victory over the Houston Astros.

The victory kept the Dodgers one game in front of Cincinnati, which outlasted Philadelphia 10-9. Third place San Francisco remained two games back as Juan Marichal, working with just two days rest, beat Chicago 4-2. Fourth place Milwaukee dropped three games behind, bowing 2-1 to Pittsburgh.

In the American League, Chicago trimmed Minnesota's lead to 5½ games on Joel Horlen's three-hitter, 2-0. The lead is Minnesota's smallest margin since mid-July.

The Dodgers trailed Robin Roberts and the Astros 2-1 going into the ninth but Maury Wills and Wes Parker opened with singles. After Roberts got the next two hitters, Jim Gilliam batted for Lou Johnson and walloped a long triple, scoring Wills and Parker. Jim Lefebvre's single then brought Gilliam home with the final Dodger run.

Rookie Tommy Helms' ninth inning single scored Tony Perez, who had tripled, with the winning run as Cincinnati downed Philadelphia. Dick Stuart belted two home runs and drove in six runs for the Phillies.

Marichal, making only his second start since sitting out his eight-day suspension for hitting John Roseboro with a bat, became the majors' third 20-game winner. Willie Mays blasted his 43rd home run of the season and the 496th of his career for San Francisco. Billy Williams accounted for both Chicago runs with his 27th and 28th home runs.

Don Clendenon scored one run and singled in the other as Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee. Tommy Sisk got ninth inning help from Wilbur Wood and Al McBean for the victory.

St. Louis swept a doubleheader from New York with Bob Gibson's two-hitter winning the opener 3-0 and Ray Washburn and Nelson Briles scattering eights hits for a 3-1 victory in the nightcap.

Horlen permitted the slugging Twins just three singles and Chicago won its second straight from Minnesota. The runner-up White Sox play the Twins twice more — in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday. John Romano homered for Chicago.

Cut Blefary belted two home runs including a grand slam as Baltimore routed Cleveland 9-5. The homers were the rookie outfielder's 19th and 20th of the season. Jerry Adair also connected for the Orioles.

Carl Yastrzemski singled, stole second and came all the way home on pitcher Pete Ramos' throwing error as Boston topped New York 4-3 in 12 innings. Yastrzemski's hit was his third of the game.

Woodie Held drove in both runs with a single and a homer as Washington shaded Detroit 2-1 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Don Wert and Norm Cash walloped three-run homers in the nightcap as Detroit earned the split 11-2.

League-leading Joliet turned Lincoln errors into touchdowns as it humbled the hosts, 45-0, in the Comets' home debut at Seacrest Field Sunday.

The Comets, making their second unsuccessful start in the Professional Football League of America, battled the powerful invaders on nearly even terms in the first quarter, but the Explorers had little trouble in boosting their early 3-0 margin as they wore down the Lincoln club as the game progressed.

The Explorers' most impressive weapon was a mammoth defensive line, backed up by blitzing linebackers who kept Lincoln quarterback Doug Tucker under constant pressure and stopped the Comets with a minus 19 yards rushing.

The Comets penetrated beyond the Joliet 20 only once, that 51-yard drive which featured Tucker to Mike Eger aerials being halted at the 14.

The Explorers were stopped cold on their first offensive series, then had to settle for a field goal from Bruce Conhain after being halted at the Lincoln 18 late in the first quarter.

Joliet quarterback Bob Webb was unable to lead the Explorers to paydirt on his own accord, but Joliet found the scoring key when second string quarterback Jim Van Gorden came in at a halfback spot and threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to ex-Wisconsin end Larry Howard.

Van Gorden repeated the halfback pass to Ed Francois for 36 yards and the second which made it 17-0 at the intermission.

The same manuever, this time to Dick Attreau, worked for a 21-yard touchdown in the second half.

It wasn't until the second half that the highly-touted Joliet ground game was much in evidence. The Explorers got only 45 yards on the ground in the first half.

But Jeff Williams, formerly of Oklahoma State; Clarence Jones, a recent Detroit Lions reject, and 265-pound fullback Charles Billings of Florida A&M found running room after the intermission.

The Comets' defensive corps was weakened in the first half when middle linebacker Dick McCashland was forced to retire with a leg injury.

Dervin, who joined the Comets just in time for one practice session last week, saw action both as an offensive guard and as a linebacker.

Although Tucker threw seven straight times without success at one stretch in the first half the Comets had almost as much success in the air lanes as the Explorers.

Eger and Love, both former Nebraska ends, were the busiest receivers. Eger hauled in seven passes for 91 yards whle the closely-watched Love nabbed five for 28 yards as Tucker found the mark on 18 of 39 attempts.

Webb and Van Gorden combined to complete 13 of 37 aerial attempts as Joliet recorded its second straight league triumph.

Many Football Question Marks

. . . AT SOUTHEAST

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

There are probably more question marks at Southeast than in any other high school football camp in town as Bill Stephenson opens his biggest rebuilding project in his five-year tenure.

Only six lettermen return from last year's 7-2 team and Stephenson considers many of the starting spots up for grabs as his club begins its third week of drills.

One thing is certain, quite a few players will see action.

"We'll do quite a bit of switching again this year," Stephenson notes, hoping that the platoon-type play which proved so successful last year will pay off again.

Although the squad is relatively inexperienced, it is not young. There are only eight juniors listed on the varsity roster and most of the players are up from a reserve team which posted a 5-0-1 record in 1964.

In terms of experience the strong point will be the backfield.

Offensively. senior Dick Hawley and juniors Bill Leinberger and Jon Roberts head the halfback roster. Roberts (176) is making progress after missing valuable experience after an early-season injury as a sophomore. Hawley (166) and Leinberger (142) have quickness.

Dick Splichal, who lettered as a sophomore then missed most of last season with a dislocated shoulder, returns at guard. The 190-pound senior is joined there by Steve Mitchell, a newcomer to the position who will probably get a starting spot on offense.

There are no lettermen at tackle, but Stephenson is hopeful of getting good mileage out of a bunch of seniors. Harold Griffin (186) and Paul Merritt (193) have the edge on offense with 238-pound Dave Feerhusen and 205-pound Mark Hergenrader expected to help bolster the defensive line.

The only letterman at end is 6-3, 173-pound Jim Deitemeyer, who was shifted after logging time as a quarterback last year.

Best of the newcomers could be junior Bill Guilford, one of several Knights who are following in the footsteps of older brothers. Senior Gregg Aksamit has good speed and junior Ron Nelson is expected to help.

The hope in the Southeast camp is that a revised offense and continued emphasis on defense will produce a fifth straight winning season under Stephenson.

The Knights are 23-11 in his four seasons and have never lost more than three games in one year.

Bill Rigney Will Pilot LA Angels For Sixth Season

Los Angeles (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels announced Sunday that Bill Rigney will return in 1966 for his sixth season as manager.

The announcement was made by General Manager Fred Haney. The news ended weeks of speculation concerning Rigney's future with the club.

"I can't understand why there was ever any doubt in anyone's mind about our rehiring Rigney," said Haney.

Rigney, 47, said the move to Anaheim, Calif., in 1966 "offers all of us a challenge to improve next season. I'm looking forward to managing the club in 1966."

Omaha Blanked By Charlotte

Aberdeen, S.D. — A four-run outburst with two out in the fourth inning broke open a scoreless tie as Charlotte, N.C.. defeated Omaha Pepsi, 6-0, here Sunday night in the American Legion Junior baseball championships.

Winning hurler Dave Lemonds struck out 13 of the first 14 batters he faced and had a total of 19 strikeouts for the game.

With two out in the fourth and Charlotte's Gary Hill on third, Bill Sellers singled to score Hill. Charles Ledford walked before Bob Irby delivered a triple off the right-field fence to score two more runs. Irby scored on a single by John Daurity.

Charlotte scored two more runs in the eighth, both were driven in via a single by Lemonds.

The only serious threat posed by Pepsi was in the sixth inning when the Omaha team loaded the bases on two singles and a walk. However, Lemonds quickly put a damper on the rally by striking out the side.

Omaha will meet Memphis, Tenn., at 2 p.m. today. Memphis eliminated Ontario, Calif., Sunday, 8-1.

The winner of the Omaha-Memphis clash will meet Charlotte at 7:30 p.m. (tonight). Charlotte drew a bye via winning the flip of a coin.

Regulation Will Aid Species Identification

Grouse hunters in Nebraska will have to be up on their head and foot work this year.

A new regulation requires that the head plumage or one fully feathered foot must remain attached to grouse at all times, the Game Commission reminds hunters. The requirement was authorized to provide species indentification and to give additional harvest data on prairie chickens and sharptails.

Harold Leep Wins Feature

Harold Leep of Wichita, Kansas, the slickest of the slick track drivers, made it two in a row Sunday afternoon winning the big car sprint races in a record smashing day at the Nebraska State Fair. A reported 12,300 spectators saw the racing program.

A Leep sweep of the big car races this year is a possibility with victories Saturday and again Sunday already under his belt and the wrapup of big car action scheduled for Monday afternoon at 2.

The broad-shouldered driver took over the lead in the 30-lap feature event on the ninth lap and never relinquished it. He slid under Don Brown of San Fernando, Calif. and was pulling away at the finish.

Three Nebraska State Fair big car racing records were set.

The first mark came in the second heat event, when Jim Moughan of Springfield, Ill. won in a record clocking of 4:02.18 minutes. Bill Puterbaugh had just set a new standard for the same distance of 8 laps in 4:08.05 clocking. Puterbaugh, who hails from Roxana, Ill. had just lowered the standard that stood since 1963.

Jerry Blundy of Galesburg, Ill. smashed out another record in the special five lap match race. He was clocked in 2:29.34 minutes toping the old mark set by Leep in 1959 by a full 11 seconds. Blundy blew an engine later and was sidelined for the feature race.

Still another mark came in the action-packed consolation race won by Don Brown. He whipped around the 10 laps in 5:04.02 minutes beating the old record of 5:31.13 set back in 1962 by another Californian, Bill Sullivan of Sacramento.

Leep's feature victory also goes as a new mark in the absence of an old one. He logged a 14:44.32 time in the 30-lap feature race a record which might be wiped out before the big cars end their three-day stay this Monday afternoon at the Nebraska State Fair in Lincoln.

The results:

First heat (8 laps)—1. Bill Puterbaugh, Roxana, Ill; 2. Bob Coulter, Long Beach, Calif.; 3. Jay Woodside, Overland Parks, Kans; .4. Tom Bigelow, Whitewater, Wisconsin. Time, 4:08.05 (New mark, old record 4:33.86 set by Jud Larson, Austin, Texas, Sept. 2 1963).

Second heat (8 laps)—1. Jim Moughan, Springfield, Ill.; 2. Buzz Barton, Tampa, Fla.; 3. Harold Leep, Wichita, Kans.; 4. Roger Lane, Blue Springs, Mo. Time, 4:02.18. (New record, old mark 4:08.05 set in first heat by Bill Puterbaugh.

Third heat (8 laps)—1. Tom Custer, Rock Island, Ill.; 2. Bill Eubank, Danville, Ind.; 3 Gordon Woolley, Waco, Texas; 4 Bernie Graybill, Frankfort, Ky. Time, 4 12.51

STP Handicap (5 laps)—1. Jerry Blundy. Galesburg, Ill., 2. Leep. 3. Don Brown, San Fernando, Calif.; 4. Lane, Time, 2:29.34 (New record, old record 2:40.25 set by Harold Leep Sept. 10, 1959.)

Consolation—(10 laps)—1. Brown; 2. Charlie Masters, Waddy, Kentucky; 3. Norm Baker, Webster City, Iowa; 4. Ray Duckworth, Anderson, Indiana. Time, 5:04.02. (New record, old record Bill Sullivan of Sacramento, Calif. 5.31.13 set in Sept. 5, 1962.

Dodgers Keep First Position

. . . GIANTS, REDS WIN

By Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers clung to their National League lead Sunday, rallying for three runs in the ninth inning for a 4-2 victory over the Houston Astros.

The victory kept the Dodgers one game in front of Cincinnati, which outlasted Philadelphia 10-9. Third place San Francisco remained two games back as Juan Marichal, working with just two days rest, beat Chicago 4-2. Fourth place Milwaukee dropped three games behind, bowing 2-1 to Pittsburgh.

In the American League, Chicago trimmed Minnesota's lead to 5½ games on Joel Horlen's three-hitter, 2-0. The lead is Minnesota's smallest margin since mid-July.

The Dodgers trailed Robin Roberts and the Astros 2-1 going into the ninth but Maury Wills and Wes Parker opened with singles. After Roberts got the next two hitters, Jim Gilliam batted for Lou Johnson and walloped a long triple, scoring Wills and Parker. Jim Lefebvre's single then brought Gilliam home with the final Dodger run.

Rookie Tommy Helms' ninth inning single scored Tony Perez, who had tripled, with the winning run as Cincinnati downed Philadelphia. Dick Stuart belted two home runs and drove in six runs for the Phillies.

Marichal, making only his second start since sitting out his eight-day suspension for hitting John Roseboro with a bat, became the majors' third 20-game winner. Willie Mays blasted his 43rd home run of the season and the 496th of his career for San Francisco. Billy Williams accounted for both Chicago runs with his 27th and 28th home runs.

Don Clendenon scored one run and singled in the other as Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee. Tommy Sisk got ninth inning help from Wilbur Wood and Al McBean for the victory.

St. Louis swept a doubleheader from New York with Bob Gibson's two-hitter winning the opener 3-0 and Ray Washburn and Nelson Briles scattering eights hits for a 3-1 victory in the nightcap.

Horlen permitted the slugging Twins just three singles and Chicago won its second straight from Minnesota. The runner-up White Sox play the Twins twice more — in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday. John Romano homered for Chicago.

Cut Blefary belted two home runs including a grand slam as Baltimore routed Cleveland 9-5. The homers were the rookie outfielder's 19th and 20th of the season. Jerry Adair also connected for the Orioles.

Carl Yastrzemski singled, stole second and came all the way home on pitcher Pete Ramos' throwing error as Boston topped New York 4-3 in 12 innings. Yastrzemski's hit was his third of the game.

Woodie Held drove in both runs with a single and a homer as Washington shaded Detroit 2-1 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Don Wert and Norm Cash walloped three-run homers in the nightcap as Detroit earned the split 11-2.

League-leading Joliet turned Lincoln errors into touchdowns as it humbled the hosts, 45-0, in the Comets' home debut at Seacrest Field Sunday.

The Comets, making their second unsuccessful start in the Professional Football League of America, battled the powerful invaders on nearly even terms in the first quarter, but the Explorers had little trouble in boosting their early 3-0 margin as they wore down the Lincoln club as the game progressed.

The Explorers' most impressive weapon was a mammoth defensive line, backed up by blitzing linebackers who kept Lincoln quarterback Doug Tucker under constant pressure and stopped the Comets with a minus 19 yards rushing.

The Comets penetrated beyond the Joliet 20 only once, that 51-yard drive which featured Tucker to Mike Eger aerials being halted at the 14.

The Explorers were stopped cold on their first offensive series, then had to settle for a field goal from Bruce Conhain after being halted at the Lincoln 18 late in the first quarter.

Joliet quarterback Bob Webb was unable to lead the Explorers to paydirt on his own accord, but Joliet found the scoring key when second string quarterback Jim Van Gorden came in at a halfback spot and threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to ex-Wisconsin end Larry Howard.

Van Gorden repeated the halfback pass to Ed Francois for 36 yards and the second which made it 17-0 at the intermission.

The same manuever, this time to Dick Attreau, worked for a 21-yard touchdown in the second half.

It wasn't until the second half that the highly-touted Joliet ground game was much in evidence. The Explorers got only 45 yards on the ground in the first half.

But Jeff Williams, formerly of Oklahoma State; Clarence Jones, a recent Detroit Lions reject, and 265-pound fullback Charles Billings of Florida A&M found running room after the intermission.

The Comets' defensive corps was weakened in the first half when middle linebacker Dick McCashland was forced to retire with a leg injury.

Dervin, who joined the Comets just in time for one practice session last week, saw action both as an offensive guard and as a linebacker.

Although Tucker threw seven straight times without success at one stretch in the first half the Comets had almost as much success in the air lanes as the Explorers.

Eger and Love, both former Nebraska ends, were the busiest receivers. Eger hauled in seven passes for 91 yards whle the closely-watched Love nabbed five for 28 yards as Tucker found the mark on 18 of 39 attempts.

Webb and Van Gorden combined to complete 13 of 37 aerial attempts as Joliet recorded its second straight league triumph.

Many Football Question Marks

. . . AT SOUTHEAST

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

There are probably more question marks at Southeast than in any other high school football camp in town as Bill Stephenson opens his biggest rebuilding project in his five-year tenure.

Only six lettermen return from last year's 7-2 team and Stephenson considers many of the starting spots up for grabs as his club begins its third week of drills.

One thing is certain, quite a few players will see action.

"We'll do quite a bit of switching again this year," Stephenson notes, hoping that the platoon-type play which proved so successful last year will pay off again.

Although the squad is relatively inexperienced, it is not young. There are only eight juniors listed on the varsity roster and most of the players are up from a reserve team which posted a 5-0-1 record in 1964.

In terms of experience the strong point will be the backfield.

Offensively, senior Dick Hawley and juniors Bill Leinberger and Jon Roberts head the halfback roster. Roberts (176) is making progress after missing valuable experience after an early-season injury as a sophomore. Hawley (166) and Leinberger (142) have quickness.

Dick Splichal, who lettered as a sophomore then missed most of last season with a dislocated shoulder, returns at guard. The 190-pound senior is joined there by Steve Mitchell, a newcomer to the position who will probably get a starting spot on offense.

There are no lettermen at tackle, but Stephenson is hopeful of getting good mileage out of a bunch of seniors. Harold Griffin (186) and Paul Merritt (193) have the edge on offense with 238-pound Dave Feerhusen and 205-pound Mark Hergenrader expected to help bolster the defensive line.

The only letterman at end is 6-3, 173-pound Jim Deitemeyer, who was shifted after logging time as a quarterback last year.

Best of the newcomers could be junior Bill Guilford, one of several Knights who are following in the footsteps of older brothers. Senior Gregg Aksamit has good speed and junior Ron Nelson is expected to help.

The hope in the Southeast camp is that a revised offense and continued emphasis on defense will produce a fifth straight winning season under Stephenson.

The Knights are 23-11 in his four seasons and have never lost more than three games in one year.

Bill Rigney Will Pilot LA Angels For Sixth Season

Los Angeles (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels announced Sunday that Bill Rigney will return in 1966 for his sixth season as manager.

The announcement was made by General Manager Fred Haney. The news ended weeks of speculation concerning Rigney's future with the club.

"I can't understand why there was ever any doubt in anyone's mind about our rehiring Rigney," said Haney.

Rigney, 47, said the move to Anaheim, Calif., in 1966 "offers all of us a challenge to improve next season. I'm looking forward to managing the club in 1966."

Omaha Blanked By Charlotte

Aberdeen, S.D. — A four-run outburst with two out in the fourth inning broke open a scoreless tie as Charlotte, N.C., defeated Omaha Pepsi, 6-0, here Sunday night in the American Legion Junior baseball championships.

Winning hurler Dave Lemonds struck out 13 of the first 14 batters he faced and had a total of 19 strikeouts for the game.

With two out in the fourth and Charlotte's Gary Hill on third, Bill Sellers singled to score Hill. Charles Ledford walked before Bob Irby delivered a triple off the right-field fence to score two more runs. Irby scored on a single by John Daurity.

Charlotte scored two more runs in the eighth, both were driven in via a single by Lemonds.

The only serious threat posed by Pepsi was in the sixth inning when the Omaha team loaded the bases on two singles and a walk. However, Lemonds quickly put a damper on the rally by striking out the side.

Omaha will meet Memphis, Tenn., at 2 p.m. today. Memphis eliminated Ontario, Calif., Sunday, 8-1.

Regulation Will Aid Species Identification

Grouse hunters in Nebraska will have to be up on their head and foot work this year.

A new regulation requires that the head plumage or one fully feathered foot must remain attached to grouse at all times, the Game Commission reminds hunters. The requirement was authorized to provide species indentification and to give additional harvest data on prairie chickens and sharptails.

Harold Leep Wins Feature

Harold Leep of Wichita, Kansas, the slickest of the slick track drivers, made it two in a row Sunday afternoon winning the big car sprint races in a record smashing day at the Nebraska State Fair. A reported 12,300 spectators saw the racing program.

A Leep sweep of the big car races this year is a possibility with victories Saturday and again Sunday already under his belt and the wrapup of big car action scheduled for Monday afternoon at 2.

The broad-shouldered driver took over the lead in the 30-lap feature event on the ninth lap and never relinquished it. He slid under Don Brown of San Fernando, Calif. and was pulling away at the finish.

Three Nebraska State Fair big car racing records were set.

The first mark came in the second heat event, when Jim Moughan of Springfield, Ill. won in a record clocking of 4:02.18 minutes. Bill Puterbaugh had just set a new standard for the same distance of 8 laps in 4:08.05 clocking. Puterbaugh, who hails from Roxana, Ill. had just lowered the standard that stood since 1963.

Jerry Blundy of Galesburg, Ill. smashed out another record in the special five lap match race. He was clocked in 2:29.34 minutes toping the old mark set by Leep in 1959 by a full 11 seconds. Blundy blew an engine later and was sidelined for the feature race.

Still another mark came in the action-packed consolation race won by Don Brown. He whipped around the 10 laps in 5:04.02 minutes beating the old record of 5:31.13 set back in 1962 by another Californian, Bill Sullivan of Sacramento.

Leep's feature victory also goes as a new mark in the absence of an old one. He logged a 14:44.32 time in the 30-lap feature race a record which might be wiped out before the big cars end their three-day stay this Monday afternoon at the Nebraska State Fair in Lincoln.

The results:

First heat (8 laps)—1. Bill Puterbaugh, Roxana, Ill; 2. Bob Coulter, Long Beach, Calif.; 3. Jay Woodside, Overland Parks, Kans; .4. Tom Bigelow, Whitewater, Wisconsin. Time, 4:08.05 (New mark, old record 4:33.86 set by Jud Larson, Austin, Texas, Sept. 2 1963).

Second heat (8 laps)—1. Jim Moughan, Springfield, Ill.; 2. Buzz Barton, Tampa, Fla.; 3. Harold Leep, Wichita, Kans.; 4. Roger Lane, Blue Springs, Mo. Time, 4:02.18. (New record, old mark 4:08.05 set in first heat by Bill Puterbaugh.

Third heat (8 laps)—1. Tom Custer, Rock Island, Ill.; 2. Bill Eubank, Danville, Ind.; 3. Gordon Woolley, Waco, Texas; 4. Bernie Graybill, Frankfort, Ky. Time, 4:12.51.

STP Handicap (5 laps)—1. Jerry Blundy, Galesburg, Ill.; 2. Leep. 3. Don Brown, San Fernando, Calif.; 4. Lane. Time, 2:29.34 (New record, old record 2:40.25 set by Harold Leep Sept. 10, 1959.)

Consolation—(10 laps)—1. Brown; 2. Charlie Masters, Waddy, Kentucky; 3. Norm Baker, Webster City, Iowa; 4. Ray Duckworth, Anderson, Indiana. Time, 5:04.02. (New record, old record Bill Sullivan of Sacramento, Calif. 5:31.13 set in Sept. 5, 1962.

Feature Race (30 laps)—1. Leep; 2. Bigelow; 3. Buzz Barton Tampa, Fla.; 4. Brown; 5. Moughan; 6. Baker; 7. Puterbaugh; 8. Eubank; 9. Woolley; 10. Jay Woodside, Overland Park, Kans. 11. Lonnie Jensen, Lincoln, Nebr. 12, Bernie Graybill, Frankfort, Ky. Time, 14:44.32.

Rule Captures OC Golf Open

. . . BY ONE STROKE

Oklahoma City, Okla. (AP)—Stocky Jack Rule Jr. won his first golf tournament in two years Sunday, taking a one-stroke victory in the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open with a five-under-par 283.

Rule, a powerful 5-10, 180-pounder from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, took home $10,000 by coming from behind on the final nine holes carding a two-under-par 70 and winning his first tourney since the St. Paul Open in 1963.

The 26-year-old Rule, who had been in a fourth place tie at the three-quarter mark, after steady rounds of 72-71-70 on the 7,130-yard, par-36-36-72 Quail Creek course, held off fast closing Bobby Nichols by a single stroke.

Nichols, a 29-year-old former PGA champion, from Corona, Calif., slammed out a four-under-par 68 to take $6,000 second place money.

Third-round leader Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., ran into trouble on the back nine Sunday and shot a one-over-par 73, leaving him in a third place tie with Randy Glover, 23-year-old Florence, S.C., golfer, with a three-under-par 285 total.

Those six golfers were the only ones finishing with sub-par totals over the long Quail Creek course, made tougher by punishing winds and two days of rain. Finishing at even par 288 was a quartet of PGA champion Dave Marr, Tommy Jacobs, Dave Hill and Chuck Rotar.

Rams Shut Out Eagles

Los Angeles (AP)—Quarterback Bill Munson guided Los Angeles 80 yards for a touchdown then set up a field goal as the Rams shut out the Philadelphia Eagles 10-0 in a National Football League pre-season game Sunday.

Performing before a crowd of 26,609 in Memorial Coliseum in a game that matched the skies in dullness, the Rams scored the lone touchdown on a four-yard pass from Munson to Marlin McKeever in the second quarter.

The final score came in the fourth on a 31-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett, ending a laborious march of 66 yards in 18 plays.

It was the first time the Rams had blanked Philadelphia since they came to Los Angeles in 1945.

The Eagles twice fumbled away scoring opportunities. Glenn Glass fumbled on the Los Angeles 20 in the first quarter, and Timmy Brown, workhorse of the Eagles' back field, was knocked loose from the ball on the Ram 33 in the fourth.

AAU, NCAA Are Just One Ingredient

New York (UPI)—AAU and NCAA are prominent ingredients in the alphabet soup but the sports world can't live on that alone.

We have USGA, USLTA, USPA, NBA, WBA, FINA, FIBA, FIFA, IRA, TRA, HTA and even a GAB among the scores of sports groups that run the show around the world.

So let's test the old I.Q.:

AAU — Amateur Athletic Union. When last seen, was the American agent for U.S. athletes competing abroad in many amateur sports. Also conducts or sanctions "open" meets involving athletes of all age-groups in and out of school.

NCAA—National Collegiate Athletic Association. Has a division for setting eligibility standards for college athletics, polices same, sanctions post-season games and tournaments and insists the AAU is doing a PPJ—pretty poor job.

USGA—U.S. Golf Association. Draws up the rules of golf for this country, helps its member courses and clubs with tips on greenskeeping and management, conducts championships at many levels.

USLTA—U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. Similar to golf group.

PGA—Professional Golfers Association. Aids two groups, club pro and playing pro. Best known publicly for tournament work.

BBBC — British Board of Boxing Control. Does same for British.

GAB—Games and Amusement Board of the Philippines. Boxing.

FINA, FIBA and FIFA — Powerful European groups governing respective sports of swimming, basketball and soccer-style football. FINA is Federation Internationale Natacion Association or swimming. FIBA is basketball, FIFA football.

TRA—Thoroughbred Racing Association. Governs racing at many flat tracks, has a police bureau to keep things on the up and up.

HTA — Harness Tracks of America. Same for trotters.

ACFL—Atlantic Coast Football League. More pros.

NBA—National Basketball Association. The big pro league. Assumed undisputed possession of the initials when the original NBA—National Boxing Association—changed to WBA.

IOC—International Olympic Committee. Those are the babies that run the Olympics, summer and winter.

Plymouths Challenge Fords In 500

Darlington, S.C. (AP) — The Fords are favored in Monday's $95,000 Southern 500 stock car race, but two old pros in Plymouths with hemispherical head engines will be giving them a run for the $20,000 first place money.

Curtis Turner and Buck Baker, both of Charlotte, N.C., will be driving the Plymouths in the NASCAR 500-mile Labor Day race which starts at 11 a.m., barring bad weather from Hurricane Betsy.

Forty-four cars will start the grind over the mile and three-eighths speedway, with Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., in the pole position. He had the best qualifying time, averaging a record 137.528 miles per hour for six laps.

Among the favorites was Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., who won the No. 2 starting spot, outside front row, by pushing a Ford to 137.318 m.p.h.

"Way back when I was in high school in Chicago," he says, "I used to listen to radio broadcasts of the Southern 500. I said then that I was going to win the 500 at Darlington some day."

He hasn't done it yet.

The first race was in 1950, and Buck Baker is the only driver who has driven in that one and every one since.

He has won three times — including the last race.

Labor Day Races Conclude Sunday; 40 Cars Entered

One of the biggest racing nights of the season will be run tonight at Midwest Speedway.

This will be the conclusion of the Labor Day weekend races at the big Lincoln Oval.

Rain interrupted the Sunday show after four heats had been completed. There were over 40 cars registered in the pit area for the big show.

Peterson Drops In Ace At Knolls

Golf action in Lincoln the past week featured a hole in one shot by Erv Peterson on the 92-yard, par-3 No. 6 at the Knolls.

Bill Kryger won the Hillcrest Grand Sweepstakes with a 135 as the tournament was completed Sunday afternoon. Em Wicks finished with a 137 to take second in the event while Gary Pattison and Bob Lane were close behind at 138.

Nicklaus Captures Jaycee Tournament

Nicklaus tied the Cedarwood Golf Club's competitive course record with a four-under-par 67 for a 138 total to overhaul first-day leader Chi Chi Rodriguez. A crowd of 2,500 watched.

Laird Struts To Win

Eldest Yank Starts Rally

Baltimore, Md. (AP) — It was the vim and vigor of youth against tiring old Americans that the British were counting on for a rare victory in the 1965 Walker Cup.

But it was the eldest Yankee, 46-year-old Ed Tutwiler, who started a flood tide Saturday from which Great Britain was fortunate to escape with an 11-11 tie, first in the 20 international amateur golf events.

"Things got moving when Tut got hot," said John Fischer, the sideline captain. "We started passing the word around and it seemed to key the boys up."

Great Britain went into the final singles matches with a 10-5 point lead. Two wins, or even one, with two ties were all that was needed to clinch their second Cup.

It looked bright for them when Sandy Saddler took a 2-up lead over Deane Beman through six holes in the No. 2 match and Ronnie Shade led Tutwiler by three through four in the third slot.

He was 4-up at the 12th and the match ended at the 15th when Shade took a bogey 5. The American victory was the first posted on the board. The next was by 42-year-old Bill Campbell, 3 and 2 winner over 23-year-old Rodney Foster.

Tutwiler and Campbell are oldtime friendly West Virginia rivals. Tutwiler, who recently moved to Indianapolis, beat Campbell six out of seven times for the West Virginia Amateur Title. Last year, Campbell was a 1-up victor over Tutwiler in the U.S. Amateur. But no sooner had they started the U.S. off on the right foot in the Cup finals than Gordon Cosh came in with a 4 and 3 victory over Allen for a British score.

Okies Capture Lion's Share Near Ogallala

Ogallala (AP)—The Oklahoma Council took the lion's share of honors in the National Scuba diving contest which wound up at Lake McConaughy near Ogallala Sunday.

Oklahoma took both men's and women's team honors and brought in the largest fish speared in the two days of competition.

The Oklahoma Council defending men's team of Ed Ralston D. J. Hadley, and Leon Manek of Oklahoma City repeated as team winner with 779.9 pounds of fish and Manek speared the largest fish a 7.1 walleye.

The Midwest Council was second in team competition with 558 pounds of fish and a second team from Oklahoma, allowed by reason of the 1964 win, was third with 540.4 pounds of fish.

Steeler Head Coach Resigns

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers said Sunday that Buddy Parker has resigned as head coach of the National Football League team.

A Steeler spokesman said that Parker told the club Sunday morning in Kingston, R.I., that he was resigning in the best interest of the club.

Parker had been head coach for eight years, compiling a 51-47-6 record. He is a graduate of Centenary College, played for the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League and was named head coach of the Detroit Lions in 1951 before coming to Pittsburgh.

The spokesman said the Steelers had not named a successor to Parker.

Parker, 50, has been connected with championship teams in the National Football League both as a player and coach.

However, since becoming head coach of the Steelers in 1957, he has met with the same disappointment that dogged his predecessors.

Parker did guide them to a second place finish in 1962 and in 1963 took them in the final regular season game against New York needing only a victory for the title. But it was not to be.

A star halfback for Centenary College, he gave up a $40-a-week job painting barns to join the Lions as a back in 1935, the year they won their first league crown.

He was an assistant Cardinal coach from 1943 until 1949. In an oddity in his career, Parker was one of four head coaches in 1944 of the Cardinals-Steelers combine brought about by World War II.

Young Man Finds Violations Costly

He was fined $50 and costs for no hunting permit, over bag limit of bullfrogs, and shooting doves in closed season. He also was assessed $50 in liquidating damages.

Rule Captures OC Golf Open

. . . BY ONE STROKE

Oklahoma City, Okla. (AP)—Stocky Jack Rule Jr. won his first golf tournament in two years Sunday, taking a one-stroke victory in the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open with a five-under-par 283.

Rule, a powerful 5-10, 180-pounder from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, took home $10,000 by coming from behind on the final nine holes carding a two-under-par 70 and winning his first tourney since the St. Paul Open in 1963.

The 26-year-old Rule, who had been in a fourth place tie at the three-quarter mark, after steady rounds of 72-71-70 on the 7,130-yard, par-36-36-72 Quail Creek course, held off fast closing Bobby Nichols by a single stroke.

Nichols, a 29-year-old former PGA champion, from Corona, Calif., slammed out a four-under-par 68 to take $6,000 second place money.

Third-round leader Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., ran into trouble on the back nine Sunday and shot a one-over-par 73, leaving him in a third place tie with Randy Glover, 23-year-old Florence, S.C., golfer, with a three-under-par 285 total.

Those six golfers were the only ones finishing with sub-par totals over the long Quail Creek course, made tougher by punishing winds and two days of rain. Finishing at even par 288 was a quartet of PGA champion Dave Marr, Tommy Jacobs, Dave Hill and Chuck Rotar.

Rams Shut Out Eagles

Los Angeles (AP)—Quarterback Bill Munson guided Los Angeles 80 yards for a touchdown then set up a field goal as the Rams shut out the Philadelphia Eagles 10-0 in a National Football League pre-season game Sunday.

Performing before a crowd of 26,609 in Memorial Coliseum in a game that matched the skies in dullness, the Rams scored the lone touchdown on a four-yard pass from Munson to Marlin McKeever in the second quarter.

The final score came in the fourth on a 31-yard field goal by Bruce Gossett, ending a laborious march of 66 yards in 18 plays.

It was the first time the Rams had blanked Philadelphia since they came to Los Angeles in 1945.

The Eagles twice fumbled away scoring opportunities. Glenn Glass fumbled on the Los Angeles 20 in the first quarter, and Timmy Brown, workhorse of the Eagles' back field, was knocked loose from the ball on the Ram 33 in the fourth.

AAU, NCAA Are Just One Ingredient

New York (UPI)—AAU and NCAA are prominent ingredients in the alphabet soup but the sports world can't live on that alone.

We have USGA, USLTA, USPA, NBA, WBA, FINA, FIBA, FIFA, IRA, TRA, HTA and even a GAB among the scores of sports groups that run the show around the world.

So let's test the old I.Q.:

AAU — Amateur Athletic Union. When last seen, was the American agent for U.S. athletes competing abroad in many amateur sports. Also conducts or sanctions "open" meets involving athletes of all age-groups in and out of school.

NCAA—National Collegiate Athletic Association. Has a division for setting eligibility standards for college athletics, polices same, sanctions post-season games and tournaments and insists the AAU is doing a PPJ—pretty poor job.

USGA—U.S. Golf Association. Draws up the rules of golf for this country, helps its member courses and clubs with tips on greenskeeping and management, conducts championships at many levels.

USLTA—U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. Similar to golf group.

GAB—Games and Amusement Board of the Philippines. Boxing.

FINA, FIBA and FIFA — Powerful European groups governing respective sports of swimming, basketball and soccer-style football. FINA is Federation Internationale Natacion Association or swimming. FIBA is basketball, FIFA football.

TRA—Thoroughbred Racing Association. Governs racing at many flat tracks, has a police bureau to keep things on the up and up.

HTA — Harness Tracks of America. Same for trotters.

ACFL—Atlantic Coast Football League. More pros.

NBA—National Basketball Association. The big pro league. Assumed undisputed possession of the initials when the original NBA—National Boxing Association—changed to WBA.

IOC—International Olympic Committee. Those are the babies that run the Olympics, summer and winter.

Plymouths Challenge Fords In 500

Darlington, S.C. (AP) — The Fords are favored in Monday's $95,000 Southern 500 stock car race, but two old pros in Plymouths with hemispherical head engines will be giving them a run for the $20,000 first place money.

Curtis Turner and Buck Baker, both of Charlotte, N.C., will be driving the Plymouths in the NASCAR 500-mile Labor Day race which starts at 11 a.m., barring bad weather from Hurricane Betsy.

Forty-four cars will start the grind over the mile and three-eighths speedway, with Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., in the pole position. He had the best qualifying time, averaging a record 137.528 miles per hour for six laps.

Among the favorites was Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., who won the No. 2 starting spot, outside front row, by pushing a Ford to 137.318 m.p.h.

"Way back when I was in high school in Chicago," he says, "I used to listen to radio broadcasts of the Southern 500. I said then that I was going to win the 500 at Darlington some day."

He hasn't done it yet.

The first race was in 1950, and Buck Baker is the only driver who has driven in that one and every one since.

He has won three times — including the last race.

Labor Day Races Conclude Sunday; 40 Cars Entered

One of the biggest racing nights of the season will be run tonight at Midwest Speedway.

This will be the conclusion of the Labor Day weekend races at the big Lincoln Oval.

Rain interrupted the Sunday show after four heats had been completed. There were over 40 cars registered in the pit area for the big show.

Peterson Drops In Ace At Knolls

Golf action in Lincoln the past week featured a hole in one shot by Erv Peterson on the 92-yard, par-3 No. 6 at the Knolls.

Bill Kryger won the Hillcrest Grand Sweepstakes with a 135 as the tournament was completed Sunday afternoon. Em Wicks finished with a 137 to take second in the event while Gary Pattison and Bob Lane were close behind at 138.

Nicklaus Captures Jaycee Tournament

Nicklaus tied the Cedarwood Golf Club's competitive course record with a four-under-par 67 for a 138 total to overhaul first-day leader Chi Chi Rodriguez. A crowd of 2,500 watched.

Laird Struts To Win

Eldest Yank Starts Rally

Baltimore, Mr. (AP) — It was the vim and vigor of youth against tiring old Americans that the British were counting on for a rare victory in the 1965 Walker Cup.

But it was the eldest Yankee, 46-year-old Ed Tutwiler, who started a flood tide Saturday from which Great Britain was fortunate to escape with an 11-11 tie, first in the 20 international amateur golf events.

"Things got moving when Tut got hot," said John Fischer, the sideline captain. "We started passing the word around and it seemed to key the boys up."

The American outlook was extremely dark when Tutwiler started a rally which netted the Americans six wins and a tie in eight singles matches.

Great Britain went into the final singles matches with a 10-5 point lead. Two wins, or even one, with two ties were all that was needed to clinch their second Cup.

It looked bright for them when Sandy Saddler took a 2-up lead over Deane Beman through six holes in the No. 2 match and Ronnie Shade led Tutwiler by three through four in the third slot.

He was 4-up at the 12th and the match ended at the 15th when Shade took a bogey 5. The American victory was the first posted on the board. The next was by 42-year-old Bill Campbell, 3 and 2 winner over 23-year-old Rodney Foster.

Tutwiler and Campbell are oldtime friendly West Virginia rivals. Tutwiler, who recently moved to Indianapolis, beat Campbell six out of seven times for the West Virginia Amateur Title. Last year, Campbell was a 1-up victor over Tutwiler in the U.S. Amateur. But no sooner had they started the U.S. off on the right foot in the Cup finals than Gordon Cosh came in with a 4 and 3 victory over Allen for a British score.

Okies Capture Lion's Share Near Ogallala

Ogallala (AP)—The Oklahoma Council took the lion's share of honors in the National Scuba diving contest which wound up at Lake McConaughy near Ogallala Sunday.

Oklahoma took both men's and women's team honors and brought in the largest fish speared in the two days of competition.

The Oklahoma Council defending men's team of Ed Ralston D. J. Hadley, and Leon Manek of Oklahoma City repeated as team winner with 779.9 pounds of fish and Manek speared the largest fish a 7.1 walleye.

The Midwest Council was second in team competition with 558 pounds of fish and a second team from Oklahoma, allowed by reason of the 1964 win, was third with 540.4 pounds of fish.

Paul Blair of Sedalia, Mo., took individual honors among men with 298.1 pounds of fish for his two day total.

Steeler Head Coach Resigns

Pittsburgh (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers said Sunday that Buddy Parker has resigned as head coach of the National Football League team.

A Steeler spokesman said that Parker told the club Sunday morning in Kingston, R.I., that he was resigning in the best interest of the club.

The Steelers have lost their first four exhibition games. They lost to the San Francisco 49ers Saturday night 23-9.

Parker had been head coach for eight years, compiling a 51-47-6 record. He is a graduate of Centenary College, played for the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League and was named head coach of the Detroit Lions in 1951 before coming to Pittsburgh.

The spokesman said the Steelers had not named a successor to Parker.

Parker, 50, has been connected with championship teams in the National Football League both as a player and coach.

However, since becoming head coach of the Steelers in 1957, he has met with the same disappointment that dogged his predecessors.

In 31 years the Steelers have never won a division title.

Parker did guide them to a second place finish in 1962 and in 1963 took them in the final regular season game against New York needing only a victory for the title. But it was not to be.

Parker's greatest successes were made with the Detroit Lions. While head coach from 1951 through 1956 the Lions won two NFL championships and three divisional titles.

A star halfback for Centenary College, he gave up a $40-a-week job painting barns to join the Lions as a back in 1935, the year they won their first league crown.

Parker was traded to the Chicago Cardinals in 1937 and played until 1943, serving as a player-coach in 1942.

He was an assistant Cardinal coach from 1943 until 1949. In an oddity in his career, Parker was one of four head coaches in 1944 of the Cardinals-Steelers combine brought about by World War II.

Young Man Finds Violations Costly

Lloyd P. Kearns, 18, Rushville, has the skills of a hunter but maybe he should check up on the regulations, the Game Commission notes.

He was fined $50 and costs for no hunting permit, over bag limit of bullfrogs, and shooting doves in closed season. He also was assessed $50 in liquidating damages.

Lancaster Boy Top Showman

Four-H club dairy showmen from Lancaster, Seward Douglas and Jefferson Counties dominated the finals of the dairy showmanship contest here Sunday. Of 12 purple ribbon winners from which three top medalists were picked, the four strong dairy counties placed 11—leaving only one spot for Custer County.

From a host of young showmen who paraded a record total of 339 dairy animals through the 4-H arena Friday, judges pared the field to around 40, who received either blue or purple ribbons.

Ending up at the top of the heap was Gary Ossenkop of Walton, the gold medalist. He edged out Jim Imig of Seward, who won the silver medal; Nancy Kapke of Fairbury, bronze medalist in third place.

Perennial

Ossenkop, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ossenkop and a perennial competitor at State Fair, won the dairy showmanship contest at the Lancaster County Fair. At the state event, he led a 4-year-old Holstein cow which he had shown earlier in the day. A sister, Nancy Ossenkop, also exhibited in the 4-H dairy show, but Gary said the two had competed in showmanship finals only in the Seward District Dairy Show.

Jim Imig, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Imig of Seward, said the second high award he received was his first breakthrough to the select winners' circle in dairy showmanship. He used a senior yearling which earlier in the day won a purple ribbon, adding to a purple won at the Seward County Fair, Seward District Dairy Show and a Guernsey Parish Show at Crete.

Second Of Day

Nancy Kapke, a Jefferson County 4-H lass who is a familiar figure in both State Fair and Ak-Sar-Ben competition, won her second big award of the day. Earlier, she had shown an aged cow to the championship in the Brown Swiss Division of the State 4-H dairy show. Her best showing in showmanship previous was fourth place in the Beatrice District Dairy Show this summer.

Girl Top 4-H Livestock Judge

Pat Leistritz of North Platte was high individual among 240 contestants in the 4-H Livestock Judging competition at the 1965 Nebraska State Fair. She is a member of the Sand Cherry Livestock Club. She also helped the Lincoln County Judging Team win reserve champion honors and a trip to the American Royal in October.

Lancaster Boy Top Showman

Four-H club dairy showmen from Lancaster, Seward Douglas and Jefferson Counties dominated the finals of the dairy showmanship contest here Sunday. Of 12 purple ribbon winners from which three top medalists were picked, the four strong dairy counties placed 11—leaving only one spot for Custer County.

From a host of young showmen who paraded a record total of 339 dairy animals through the 4-H arena Friday, judges pared the field to around 40, who received either blue or purple ribbons.

Ending up at the top of the heap was Gary Ossenkop of Walton, the gold medalist. He edged out Jim Imig of Seward, who won the silver medal; Nancy Kapke of Fairbury, bronze medalist in third place.

Perennial

Ossenkop, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ossenkop and a perennial competitor at State Fair, won the dairy showmanship contest at the Lancaster County Fair. At the state event, he led a 4-year-old Holstein cow which he had shown earlier in the day. A sister, Nancy Ossenkop, also exhibited in the 4-H dairy show, but Gary said the two had competed in showmanship finals only in the Seward District Dairy Show.

Jim Imig, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Imig of Seward, said the second high award he received was his first breakthrough to the select winners' circle in dairy showmanship. He used a senior yearling which earlier in the day won a purple ribbon, adding to a purple won at the Seward County Fair, Seward District Dairy Show and a Guernsey Parish Show at Crete.

Second Of Day

Nancy Kapke, a Jefferson County 4-H lass who is a familiar figure in both State Fair and Ak-Sar-Ben competition, won her second big award of the day. Earlier, she had shown an aged cow to the championship in the Brown Swiss Division of the State 4-H dairy show. Her best showing in showmanship previous was fourth place in the Beatrice District Dairy Show this summer.

Girl Top 4-H Livestock Judge

Pat Leistritz of North Platte was high individual among 240 contestants in the 4-H Livestock Judging competition at the 1965 Nebraska State Fair. She is a member of the Sand Cherry Livestock Club. She also helped the Lincoln County Judging Team win reserve champion honors and a trip to the American Royal in October.

Draft Horses Steal Show

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

The comeback was demonstrated at the Nebraska State Fair Sunday as the largest show of Belgian horses in nearly 40 years charmed thousands of fairgoers.

While the big Belgians stole the hearts of fair visitors, Hurbert Schneckloth of Davenport, Iowa, was busy capturing the show in making a sweep of the championships.

The Schneckloth firm started the day on taking champion stallion honors with Jan Rubis, a stallion the firm purchased in Nebraska. Just a few days ago the same horse was champion at the Iowa State Fair

Other Winners

With a whole string of blue ribbons in additional classes the Schneckloth firm also ended up with the Champion mare, reserve champion stallion, and reserve champion mare.

Don Schneckloth, a member of the winnng firm, said three generations of his family have been engaged in showing the big draft horses. The firm usually makes the Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and Indiana fairs and the Belgian National Show at Davenport, Iowa, each year.

This year the Schneckloths returned to Nebraska where they have not shown for nearly 10 years in favor of going to Indiana.

Rival International

Charles J. Warner of Waverly, superintendent of the horse show, said the mare classes at the Nebraska State Fair would rival the size of show at the International Livestock Show.

"This is the biggest show in modern times," said Warner.

On the other side of the arena the ponies were busy and the story read the same, "the largest Shetland show, and quality excellent."

School Center To Be Sought For Midwest

Omaha (AP)—A multimillion-dollar educational research center will be sought by educators from seven states for the Midwest.

Thirty six from North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska agreed to form the Mid-Plains Educational Research and Development Association Inc.

Dr. George Rachford of the University of Omaha said they will prepare a proposal for the federal government to finance research into various phases of education.

The superintendent of Omaha schools, Dr. Paul Miller, estimated about $5 million will be available for each of the 19 centers to be created under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The group has scheduled a second meeting for Sept. 15.

Lancaster 4-H Tops Cass In Poultry Judging

Lancaster and Cass County 4-H'ers fought it out in the state 4-H poultry judging contest at the Nebraska State Fair, with Lancaster Countians coming out on top in team judging and Cass County furnishing the top individual judge.

All entries in the contest came from the two counties. Lancaster County won the team title 1,900 points to 1,864 for Cass County.

Lincoln Youth Is Gold Medalist In Crop Contest

They know their oats — and wheat and corn too. The winners of the 4-H Crops Judging contest at the 1965 State Fair graded and identified their way to top honors.

The individual gold medal was awarded to Dick Caster, Lincoln, who judged on the Lancaster County Team. First place team honors went to the Cheyenne County group, composed of Steve Linton and Gene Nelson of Dalton and Keith Rexroth of Sidney.

Completing the top ten individuals were Kendall Hunt, Lincoln, fifth; Gene Nelson, Dalton, sixth; Keith Rexroth, Sidney, and David Paschold, Firth, tie for seventh; David Mutchie, Ceresco, ninth; and Jim Kehr, Lincoln, tenth.

The Lancaster County team, lead by Dick Caster of Lincoln, took 2nd place group awards, followed by Cass County, third; Sarpy, fourth; and Lincoln in the fifth position.

These boys were tested in oats and wheat judging, corn and wheat grading, as well as crop and weed identification.

Saunders County Added To Food-Stamp Project

Among them was Saunders County in Nebraska.

The President said he hopes this program, which he considers "a vital part of our work to break the cycle of poverty" can be extended to one million people by next June.

Food Coupons

The food-stamp program permits low-income famlies to buy food coupons, with which they can purchase goods in local food stores. The goods are worth much more than the price of the coupons.

Starting out with 43 pilot operations last August, Johnson said the food-stamp project now will cover 206 areas in 39 states and the District of Columbia.

Another 16 areas approved to enter the food-stamp program earlier will begin operations in the coming months and two counties in Mississippi will start this week, he noted.

640,000 Participating

Latest reports show that in July nearly 640,000 people were taking part in the program, gaining an average of $6.30 a month per person in more food-buying power.

"For many of these people," Johnson said, "it is the first time they have ever been able to go into a store and buy the food their families need."

The President said he will "move quickly to extend the program where possible within available funds" and over the next few years "we expect to bring the food-stamp program to all parts of the country that request it."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, whose department administers the program, said officials of the 74 newly designated areas, will move to open coupon sales as soon as possible, some in October.

Saunders County Added To Food-Stamp Project

Johnson City, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson announced Sunday extension of the food-stamp program for low income families to another 74 counties in 24 states.

Among them was Saunders County in Nebraska.

The President said he hopes this program, which he considers "a vital part of our work to break the cycle of poverty" can be extended to one million people by next June.

Food Coupons

The food-stamp program permits low-income famlies to buy food coupons, with which they can purchase goods in local food stores. The goods are worth much more than the price of the coupons.

Starting out with 43 pilot operations last August, Johnson said the food-stamp project now will cover 206 areas in 39 states and the District of Columbia.

Another 16 areas approved to enter the food-stamp program earlier will begin operations in the coming months and two counties in Mississippi will start this week, he noted.

640,000 Participating

Latest reports show that in July nearly 640,000 people were taking part in the program, gaining an average of $6.30 a month per person in more food-buying power.

"For many of these people," Johnson said, "it is the first time they have ever been able to go into a store and buy the food their families need."

The President said he will "move quickly to extend the program where possible within available funds" and over the next few years "we expect to bring the food-stamp program to all parts of the country that request it."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, whose department administers the program, said officials of the 74 newly designated areas, will move to open coupon sales as soon as possible, some in October.

U.S. MARINES SHATTER VIET CONG UNITS IN COASTAL VILLAGE

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Marines shattered Viet Cong units holding a coastal village in central Viet Nam Sunday and U.S. Army paratroopers smashed an enemy position near a key military highway in the highlands.

The Marine punch came from the sea and air and killed 25 Viet Cong. The airborne troops attacked under thundering artillery support. U.S. casualties in both actions were described as very light.

The Marines struck at dawn to trap and defeat two platoons of Viet Cong guerrillas in a village 10 miles north of the coastal town of Qui Nhon.

The army troops routed a small Viet Cong force that could have caused trouble on the highway from Qui Nhon to Pleiku, important U.S.-South Vietnamese military base about 235 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said the paratroopers trapped 10 Viet Cong in a cave after a firefight and pounded the fortification with heavy artillery until the guerrillas surrendered.

The Marine attack was thoroughly coordinated. As troops closed their trap on the ground, U.S. F101 jets screamed in with bombs and napalm to flush the Viet Cong out of rice grass and thickets.

The Marines counted 25 Viet Cong dead up to noon.

The Marine trap was sprung by two companies of the 2nd Battalion of the Marines' 7th Regiment. While one company rolled ashore through barbed wire on the seaward edge of the hamlet of Vinh Quang, another landed from helicopters from the north and west.

The seaborne Marines drove the Viet Cong into the guns of the troops that had landed by helicopter. Some guerrillas plunged into the sea, others drove into rice paddies and caves.

The village was known to have supported the Viet Minh fighters against the French and many members of villagers' families have moved to Communist North Viet Nam.

The paratrooper action was the first official disclosure that the 101st Airborne troops were operating in the rugged central highlands.

Nearly 4,000 men from the 101st Airborne Division — known as the "Screaming Eagles" — landed at the end of July in South Viet Nam at Cam Banh Bay, a seaport 200 miles north of Saigon.

Son Of Man In Cather Book Dies

Anton Shimerda Jr., 76, the son of a man portrayed in Nebraska author Willa Cather's book, "My Antonia," died Friday in Wilber.

Anton Sr. in the novel was a farmer near Wilber who married Antonia, a girl from Bohemia who settled in Nebraska toward the end of the 19th Century. Antonia in real life was Francis Kostecka. She died in 1908, two years before Anton Sr.

Anton Sr.'s grandson, Edward, of Wilber, said that his grandfather moved into Wilber in later life and became a real estate broker.

Miss Cather, who has received the Pulitzer Prize, five honorary degrees, and the 1933 Prix Femina Americaine, wrote "My Antonia" in 1918.

The first records of soap being used as a washing agent are found in the writings of Galen, a Greek physician who lived in the 2nd Century. There are earlier mentions of the basic ingredients of soap in the writings of Pliny the Elder.

No Holiday For Sealab Aquanauts

La Jolla Calif. (AP) — Labor Day will be no holiday for the nation's aquanauts in Sealab 2.

The 10 divers enter their second week of a busy work and scientific testing schedule at a depth of 205 feet.

The divers had their first day off Sunday, though, and the men spent it "doing whatever they want to do—sleeping, writing letters," a spokesman said. Religious services also were held.

Cmdr. M Scott Carpenter, leader of the first of three teams, had asked that every seventh day be designated "holiday routine" in Sealab 2.

Way Stations Readied

The stations resemble oversized, doorless telephone booths that will contain emergency breathing gear. They will be placed near major work areas such as the underwater weather station in case divers run low on air.

The first team of divers—all except Carpenter — is scheduled to ascend next Sunday, when the second team will go down. Astronaut Carpenter will remain below during the second 15-day phase of the 45-day experiment.

The daily status report since the aquanauts went down has always included: "The aquanauts spent a restful night."

It's Quiet

The bell sounded outside the Sealab.

"There were four men outside and everybody was back at the lab in less than a minute," said Capt. George Bond, chief investigator of the project.

SHE HELPS CRIPPLED TOTS

Mary Jane Ayres, 17, who's helping Billy Johns learn to swim, doesn't feel cheated even though she got no vacation this summer. Just as she's done for two years, she stayed home in Woodland Hills, Calif., near Los Angeles, to teach children who can't walk how to swim. She finds it more worthwhile than running off to beach resorts with other teen-agers.

OLD-FASHIONED THRESHERS' REUNION SET NEAR VERDIGRE

Verdigre — Six teams of matched Belgian horses will power a hand-fed threshing machine when an old-fashioned threshers' reunion gets under way near Verdigre on Oct. 2 and 3.

To be held on the William Mayberry farm, the reunion will also exhibit steam engines, oil and gas tractors, a Stone burs mill, a Baker fan, a scale model Avery thresher and a saw mill.

A parade of engines is planned at 11:30 a.m. for both days of the event.

McCook Youth Is Back After Year In Switzerland

McCook — Bill Lyons, 19, has returned from Switzerland after spending a year working and learning in the country.

Lyons attended school there and said he didn't get as much out of his lessons as he might have since it took about four months to learn the German language.

Wegner Chosen

Man Is Subdued, Preventing Jump Off Empire State

New York (AP) — Police subdued a man as he attempted to jump from a ledge on the 81st floor of the Empire State Building Sunday.

The man, identified as Francis McCarthy, 33, of Elmhurst, Queens, was taken to Bellevue Hospital. He suffered cuts on both arms when he smashed a plate glass window on the floor above and jumped onto the 8-foot wide ledge.

Key figures in the rescue were Sgt. Norbert Campbell and Patrolman William Hall.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Labor's Advances Through Laws Often Exaggerated

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

On Labor Day, there is a tendency to overemphasize the gains that have come to workers through legislation.

Rukeyser

For example, the Wagner Act is sonorously referred to as Labor's Magna Charta. This year there is rejoicing that Congress has been asked by the administration to remove from the Taft-Hartley Act the clause which authorized states to enact "right to work" laws.

It is an undesirable form of segregation to categorize labor as a separate group. For one man's employes are another man's customers, and our contemporary industrial society is based on exchanges of the output of specialized workers. Specialization makes for interdependence, and, as the great Philadelphia economist of the Mid-Nineteenth Century, Henry C. Carey stressed there is a "harmony of interests" of major economic groups.

The goal should be balanced relationships, so that transactions, resulting in a rise of average material wellbeing, can proceed on an optimum basis.

In an orderly system, laws play a part, but the rise of U.S. living standards far above the international average stems from other important factors. Sometimes, the wrong fellows—politicians and union leaders—take the bows for economic progress.

Realism calls for some applause for the modest creative process engineers, who enable workers, aided by power-driven modern machinery, to produce more and hence to earn more. The relative abundance reflects management's constructive role in bringing men, machines and materials into contact with customers, and offering them what they want and need at a price tag that they are able and willing to absorb.

The system taps the creative resources of personnel in science, invention and engineering, and the desire for growth is implemented by the savings (capital) supplied by thrifty security holders.

The end-all and be-all of an economic system is the degree to which it serves human ends. But on occasions, such as Labor Day, when there is mental stock taking, it is desirable to make a scientific approach. Emotionalism and prejudice should not be permitted to becloud objective judgment.

In spite of automation, the human being is essential to the economic process, and this day is a suitable time to salute the privates of industry, agriculture and the service trades.

A recent episode in respect to estate accounting for inheritance taxes dramatizes the extent to which we are living in a tax civilization.

Where title to a residence was in the name of the husband and wife, the Internal Revenue Service was desirous to know who put the money up. It was important to know whether the survivor had provided the funds. The transaction had taken place more than a score of years ago, and tax auditors don't depend on a taxpayer's vague memory.

Fortunately, the attorney who arranged the real estate closing for the buyer wrote up in memorandum form all the specific details of the deal, including the numbers of the checks signed by the buyer, the amount of each and the banks on which they were drawn.

Records Important

Reference is made to this incident because it points up to readers the desirability of keeping records.

Frequently the question is asked how long they should be kept.

While some say five years, it would be more accurate to state that facts concerning assets still held should be kept indefinitely. This is necessary to determine whether there is a capital gain or a loss when and if a sale is made. In the case of joint tenancy of a home, it is important to have supporting data as to whence the funds came.

In legal proceedings, hostile lawyers and auditors expect from the public longer memories than most possess. In such cases, it is prudent to tell the truth and say: "I don't remember."

In this computer age, time is not the only factor involved in determining how long to keep data. A more sensible criterion is whether transactions are live or dead. Continuing interests call for keeping original cost data, and also the source of funds with which costs were met.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Aroma Discovered

Syracuse, Sicily (AP) — Police used their noses to recover the loot in a warehouse robbery. Nearly 1,000 pounds of stolen coffee was found hidden under a pile of dry leaves in an olive orchard after the aroma led police to the cache.

Most Markets Are Closed Labor Day

Most domestic markets will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

In Nebraska,
beer's the one...
good fun

Wherever you fish for sport—on the ocean, by the booming surf, or on some quiet country pond, it's great at the end of the day to head for a rewarding glass of beer. While you're talking over the ones that got away, or pan-frying the ones that didn't, you enjoy the hearty taste and cool refreshment only a glass of beer can give you so well. Yes, whatever your sport—bowling or strolling, golfing or gardening—a frosty glass of beer makes a naturally great accompaniment.

No Holiday For Sealab Aquanauts

La Jolla, Calif. (AP) — Labor Day will be no holiday for the nation's aquanauts in Sealab 2.

The 10 divers enter their second week of a busy work and scientific testing schedule at a depth of 205 feet.

The divers had their first day off Sunday, though, and the men spent it "doing whatever they want to do—sleeping, writing letters," a spokesman said. Religious services also were held.

Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter, leader of the first of three teams, had asked that every seventh day be designated "holiday routine" in Sealab 2.

Way Stations Readied

Meantime, men aboard the mother ship Berkone have been readying emergency way stations to be lowered to the bottom.

The stations resemble oversized, doorless telephone booths that will contain emergency breathing gear. They will be placed near major work areas such as the underwater weather station in case divers run low on air.

The first team of divers—all except Carpenter — is scheduled to ascend next Sunday, when the second team will go down. Astronaut Carpenter will remain below during the second 15-day phase of the 45-day experiment.

The daily status report since the aquanauts went down has always included: "The aquanauts spent a restful night."

It's Quiet

And why not? It's quiet down there. The only noisemaker is a loud bell, used over the weekend in an undersea drill.

The bell sounded outside the Sealab.

"There were four men outside and everybody was back at the lab in less than a minute," said Capt. George Bond, chief investigator of the project.

SHE HELPS CRIPPLED TOTS

Mary Jane Ayres, 17, who's helping Billy Johns learn to swim, doesn't feel cheated even though she got no vacation this summer. Just as she's done for two years, she stayed home in Woodland Hills, Calif., near Los Angeles, to teach children who can't walk how to swim. She finds it more worthwhile than running off to beach resorts with other teen-agers.

OLD-FASHIONED THRESHERS' REUNION SET NEAR VERDIGRE

Verdigre — Six teams of matched Belgian horses will power a hand-fed threshing machine when an old-fashioned threshers' reunion gets under way near Verdigre on Oct. 2 and 3.

To be held on the William Mayberry farm, the reunion will also exhibit steam engines, oil and gas tractors, a Stone burs mill, a Baker fan, a scale model Avery thresher and a saw mill.

A parade of engines is planned at 11:30 a.m. for both days of the event.

McCook Youth Is Back After Year In Switzerland

McCook — Bill Lyons, 19, has returned from Switzerland after spending a year working and learning in the country.

Lyons attended school there and said he didn't get as much out of his lessons as he might have since it took about four months to learn the German language.

Wegner Chosen

Palmer — Dallas Wegner has been elected president of the Commercial Club. Jim Thede will be vice president for the coming year; Miner Harris, secretary, and Jack Wilhelmy, treasurer.

Man Is Subdued, Preventing Jump Off Empire State

New York (AP) — Police subdued a man as he attempted to jump from a ledge on the 81st floor of the Empire State Building Sunday.

The man, identified as Francis McCarthy, 33, of Elmhurst, Queens, was taken to Bellevue Hospital. He suffered cuts on both arms when he smashed a plate glass window on the floor above and jumped onto the 8-foot wide ledge.

Key figures in the rescue were Sgt. Norbert Campbell and Patrolman William Hall.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Labor's Advances Through Laws Often Exaggerated

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

On Labor Day, there is a tendency to overemphasize the gains that have come to workers through legislation.

For example, the Wagner Act is sonorously referred to as Labor's Magna Charta. This year there is rejoicing that Congress has been asked by the administration to remove from the Taft-Hartley Act the clause which authorized states to enact "right to work" laws.

Rukeyser

It is an undesirable form of segregation to categorize labor as a separate group. For one man's employes are another man's customers, and our contemporary industrial society is based on exchanges of the output of specialized workers. Specialization makes for interdependence, and, as the great Philadelphia economist of the Mid-Nineteenth Century, Henry C. Carey stressed there is a "harmony of interests" of major economic groups.

The goal should be balanced relationships, so that transactions, resulting in a rise of average material wellbeing, can proceed on an optimum basis.

In an orderly system, laws play a part, but the rise of U.S. living standards far above the international average stems from other important factors. Sometimes, the wrong fellows—politicians and union leaders—take the bows for economic progress.

Realism calls for some applause for the modest creative process engineers, who enable workers, aided by power-driven modern machinery, to produce more and hence to earn more. The relative abundance reflects management's constructive role in bringing men, machines and materials into contact with customers, and offering them what they want and need at a price tag that they are able and willing to absorb.

The system taps the creative resources of personnel in science, invention and engineering, and the desire for growth is implemented by the savings (capital) supplied by thrifty security holders.

The end-all and be-all of an economic system is the degree to which it serves human ends. But on occasions, such as Labor Day, when there is mental stock taking, it is desirable to make a scientific approach. Emotionalism and prejudice should not be permitted to becloud objective judgment.

In spite of automation, the human being is essential to the economic process, and this day is a suitable time to salute the privates of industry, agriculture and the service trades.

A recent episode in respect to estate accounting for inheritance taxes dramatizes the extent to which we are living in a tax civilization.

Where title to a residence was in the name of the husband and wife, the Internal Revenue Service was desirous to know who put the money up. It was important to know whether the survivor had provided the funds. The transaction had taken place more than a score of years ago, and tax auditors don't depend on a taxpayer's vague memory.

Fortunately, the attorney who arranged the real estate closing for the buyer wrote up in memorandum form all the specific details of the deal, including the numbers of the checks signed by the buyer, the amount of each and the banks on which they were drawn.

Records Important

Reference is made to this incident because it points up to readers the desirability of keeping records.

Frequently the question is asked how long they should be kept.

While some say five years, it would be more accurate to state that facts concerning assets still held should be kept indefinitely. This is necessary to determine whether there is a capital gain or a loss when and if a sale is made. In the case of joint tenancy of a home, it is important to have supporting data as to whence the funds came.

In legal proceedings, hostile lawyers and auditors expect from the public longer memories than most possess. In such cases, it is prudent to tell the truth and say: "I don't remember."

In this computer age, time is not the only factor involved in determining how long to keep data. A more sensible criterion is whether transactions are live or dead. Continuing interests call for keeping original cost data, and also the source of funds with which costs were met.

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)

Aroma Discovered

Syracuse, Sicily (AP) — Police used their noses to recover the loot in a warehouse robbery. Nearly 1,000 pounds of stolen coffee was found hidden under a pile of dry leaves in an olive orchard after the aroma led police to the cache.

Most Markets Are Closed Labor Day

Most domestic markets will be closed Monday, Labor Day.

Journal and Star Want Ads

Your low-cost Want Ad appears daily in the Lincoln Star (Morning) and the Lincoln Journal (Evening) or the Sunday Journal and Star at the following cash rates:

Words	Lines	DAYS 1	4	7	10
—10	2	.80	2.36	3.64	4.00
11-15	3	1.05	3.60	5.25	5.70
16-20	4	1.32	4.64	6.44	7.20
21-25	5	1.60	5.60	8.05	9.00
26-30	6	1.86	6.48	9.24	10.20
31-35	7	2.10	7.28	10.29	11.90

These low-cost rates apply to Want Ads from within the State of Nebraska which are placed for consecutive days and are paid for within 10 days after the ad expires or is canceled. Daily rates for ads from outside Nebraska are 8 cents per word or 40 cents per line.

Single paper rates either evening Journal or morning Star, are 90% of the combination rates. These ads would appear under "Too Late To Classify" column.

TO PLACE YOUR AD DIAL 477-8902

Journal and Star Want Ads

Your low-cost Want Ad appears daily in the Lincoln Star (Morning) and the Lincoln Journal (Evening) or the Sunday Journal and Star at the following cash rates:

Words	Lines	DAYS 1	4	7	10
—10	2	.80	2.56	3.64	4.00
11-15	3	1.05	3.60	5.25	5.70
16-20	4	1.32	4.64	6.44	7.20
21-25	5	1.60	5.60	8.05	9.00
26-30	6	1.86	6.48	9.24	10.20
31-35	7	2.10	7.28	10.29	11.90

These low-cost rates apply to Want Ads from within the State of Nebraska which are placed for consecutive days and are paid for within 10 days after the ad expires or is canceled. Daily rates for ads from outside Nebraska are 8 cents per word or 40 cents per line.

Single paper rates either evening Journal or morning Star, are 90% of the combination rates. These ads would appear under "Too Late To Classify" column.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Of the 14,000 population on KRK, a Yugoslavian island in the North Adriatic, 4,500 are over 76 years old.

A hospital for wild animals wounded by hunters is to be built at Sodupe, near Bilbao, Spain. The first establishment of its kind in Spain, perhaps in the world, it will receive quail, partridges, rabbits, and any other wildlife.

A 17th Century charter granted by King Charles II of England gives the English toy spaniel the right to join any royal function in England. The tassel-eared canines may even visit the houses of Parliament.
